Who With Loving Interest and Faith in Us Have Been Our True College Parents

DEDICATION

To Our Parents

Our earliest and truest friends, whose abiding love is ever with us, we dedicate this volume with the hope that our effort will please them. May this book express in a slight degree our love and gratitude to our fathers, the best and the bravest, and to our mothers, the dearest and most devoted.

FOREWORD

If you will measure the merit of these pages by our earnest effort to make this annual worthy of our Alma Mater:

If this volume, Sights and Insights, shows something of the Salem spirit:

If our annual serves to brighten college life and preserve memories of happy days spent at dear old Salem:

Then, shall we feel grateful for your kindly consideration.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF SALEM

THE little community of Moravians located at Salem, North Carolina, established a school for girls in 1772, one of the earliest schools founded in the United States for the education of women. The school supplied a need of the time, and in 1802 a boarding department was added. Girls of other denominations from the entire South came to Salem Academy in after years because of its wholesome Christian training.

In 1866 a new charter was granted which provided for a collegiate department.

During the past fifteen years Salem Academy and Salem College have been maintained as separate institutions, but both under the same administration. In recent years Salem College has been granted a rating as an A college and stands in scholarship among the higher colleges for women.

The chief charm of Salem, however, will ever be its unique atmosphere and its high ideals. The alumnae show their appreciation of what Salem meant to them by sending their daughters and granddaughters there. Any historical sketch of Salem College would be incomplete without recalling the period of Bishop Edward Rondthaler's connection with it since the Civil War. Today he is the venerable and beloved teacher of Bible. His presence is a benediction, and his life an inspiration to the girls so fortunate as to know him.

With one hundred and fifty-four years of splendid Christian education and thousands of loyal alumnae, it is safe to prophesy a future full of glory for Salem.

Helen

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. JOHN H. GRIFFIN

WILSON, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Beta Beta Phi; President of Senior Class, '25, '26; Presidents' Forum, '25, '26; I. R. S. Committee, '25, '26; Basketball Team, '23, '25, '25, '26; Glee Club, '23, '24, '25, '26; Executive Board of MacDowell Club, '24, '25; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '24, '25; Head of Baseball, '24, '25.

We would surely like to meet Helen's twin brother if he can compare with her. Her nickname, "Missionary," because of her stern Puritan conscience, makes her well fitted for her office as President of the Class of '26. Even Helen of Troy can not compare with her in her number of admirers.

Mary

DAUGHTER OF

DR. AND MRS. J. N. ANDERSON

ALBEMARLE, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

Alpha Phi Kappa; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25, '26; Class Song Leader, '23, '24, '25; History Club, '23, '24; Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24, '25, '26; Home Economics Club, '25, '26; MacDowell Club, '24, '25, '26.

Mary made her debut at Salem by spilling a bottle of ink on a new coat belonging to Miss Forman. She has been "on the chase" for the faculty since that day. She is a good cook, but from what she says about hard work in the lunch room under Miss Osborne, one would think that the rest of the class learned by observation. She is a champion for dressing in a hurry—out of a chemistry apron into her silks for her afternoon promenade. Mary is always jolly and gay, and we like her.

Carrie Mae

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. G. L. BALDWIN

MT. GILEAD, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Glee Club, '23, '24, '25, '26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23, '24; Y. W. C. A. Choir, '22, '23, '24, '25; MacDowell Club, '23, '24, '25.

"So Salem has a Damon and Pythias! Who are they?" Why, Carrie Mae and Christine, of course. They even graduate in voice together. Carrie Mae's sweet disposition is as well known as her lovely voice, too.

Elsie

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. J. T. BARNES
WILSON, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Theta Delta Pi; Basketball Team, '23, '24, '25; Captain Basketball Team, '23, '24; Baseball Team, '22, '23; Senior Marshal, '23, '24; Secretary Athletic Association, '24, '25; Head of Basketball, '24, '25; Vice-President Athletic Association, '25, '26; Glee Club, '23, '26.

DIARY OF AN ACADEMY GIRL

Friday, October 25.—Thrills! I have at last met that cute, attractive looking little senior who leads the line to chapel. Just to think I've gone two whole weeks without knowing her. I knew she could sing, and sure enough she is a voice major. They say she is a star in athletics, and when it comes to playing basketball—well!

Lillian Mae

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. J. A. BENNETT
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

MacDowell Club, '23, '24, '25, '26; Home Economics Club, '25, '26.

Lost—Lillian Bennett's chewing gum. "Girls, can this be true? It seems impossible for Lillian to be in such a predicament."

Found—A remarkable ability in drawing. Also a girl with a very lady-like voice. See Lillian Bennett.

Miriam Lee

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE F. BRIETZ
SELMA, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Editor-in-Chief of "Salemite," '25, '26; Managing Editor, '24, '25; "Salemite" Staff, '23, '24; Class Poet, '25, '26; Class Historian, '22, '24, '25; History Club, '22, '23, '24; Secretary History Club, '24, '25; Chairman Program Committee History Club, '25, '26; Secretary Pierrette Players, '24, '25, '26; Presidents' Forum, '25, '26; Fire Captain, '25, '26; Class Honors, '24, '25.

Name of Play: "A Portrait of a Lady."

Author—Anonymous.

Theme—"Originality's Reward."

Setting—Salem Bastille.

Agony by Astes.

Act I—Intellectual Wizard.

Act II—Sarah Bernhardt's Successor.

Act III—Literatus maximus.

Literary Criticism—The heroine of this play, Miriam Brietz, is a strong character. Her literary ability is shown throughout the play, as well as her originality and individualism.

Christine

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. J. H. BROOKS
BURLINGTON, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Glee Club, '23, '24, '25, '26; Librarian Glee Club, '25, '26; Y. W. C. A. Choir, '22, '23, '24, '25; Hikers, '22, '23; Fire Captain, '26; Runner-up in Tennis Singles, '22.

What time Christine is not spending in Memorial Hall practicing voice is spent in Alice Clewell in either waiting for a telephone call or in getting a call through. It seems to be a very exasperating job to wait for calls, for frequently we hear "Pete" say impatiently, "Why don't they hurry up?"

Gladys Elizabeth

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. W. I. BROOKES
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24-'25, '25-'26;
Basketball Team, '23-'24, '24-'25; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; History Club, '22-'23; MacDowell Club, '23-'26.

Monday Night.

Dearest Helen: I am writing you about one of my friends who comes from the "City of Cigarettes." In the fall she enters Columbia, and I want you to be sure and look her up. You cannot help liking her, for everyone loves "Lib." She is a typical collegiate type, in that she does not take her work too seriously, but loves a good time. Fondly yours,

MARY.

Lillian Lucile

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. A. E. BURKE
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

History Club, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; MacDowell Club, '23-'24, '25-'26.

Lucile is one of those lucky individuals who always looks on the world and its woes with a cheerful smile. But then I guess if we had a big diamond we would smile, too. We're proud that she will graduate with '26, but not surprised, for Lucile is like the flour in the ad — "never fails" in anything she attempts to do.

Clemmon May

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. BROWN
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Western North Carolina Club, '23-'24; MacDowell Club, '23-'24; French Club, '24-'25; Y. W. C. A., '24-'25.

"Oh, I'm just worried to death," sighs Clemmon, and we all know that she is talking about that dreaded piano exam, counterpoint, or some similar subject. Clemmon receives her share of teasing for not ever walking to school, but to whom do all the girls go when they want some of those delicious sandwiches that she always seems to have? To Clemmon, of course!

Ruth Clark

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. H. D. BROWN
WILSON, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Captain of Volley Ball Team, '22; Volley Ball Team, '23-'24; Joke Editor "Salemite" Staff, '25; Chairman Program Committee French Club, '24-'25; Art Editor "Sights and Insights," '24-'25; Secretary and Treasurer French Club, '25-'26.

Ruth Clark's hobby is French. She not only speaks French, but she attempts to look French also, and stays dressed up all the time. Due to this fact we understand her pupils out at the high school called her "Miss Flossy." Ruth could well adopt art for a hobby, too, as a number of the drawings in this book will prove.

Rosa Eleanor

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. M. H. CALDWELL
CONCORD, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

Alpha Phi Kappa; Editor-in-Chief "Sights and Insights," '25-'26; Presidents' Forum, '24-'25-'26; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25-'26; President Junior Class, '24-'25; I. R. S. Representative, '24-'25; Assistant Editor-in-Chief "Sights and Insights," '24-'25; Club Editor "Sights and Insights," '23-'24; Annual Staff, '23-'24; "Salemite" Staff, '23-'24; Treasurer Class, '23-'24; MacDowell Club Board, '23-'24; Lieutenant Fire Department, '23-'24; Secretary and Treasurer Home Economics Club, '23-'24; Home Economics Club, '22-'26; Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24-'26; Blue Ridge Delegate, '24-'25; Baseball Team, '24-'25; Chief Marshal, '24-'25.

One would think that Miss Stipe had been partial in giving some girls more than one room. The question is, does Rosa live in room 208 Alice Clewell Building, or the Publication Office? This volume in itself speaks for the ability and achievement of our editor. Not only is she capable along this line, but in many others, for indeed Rosa is competent in every phase of college life. She is just one big dose of pep, hard work, and friendliness.

Sue Gibbs

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. W. B. CARLTON
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

"Sights and Insights" Staff, '25-'26; Officers, '22-'23; History Club, '25-'26; Glee Club, '25-'26; MacDowell Club, '23-'26.

If everybody knew Susie like we know Sue, you, too, would join in the chorus of the song writer and say, "Oh, oh, oh, what a girl!" She plays the piano so well that we have a sneaking feeling that she, like Dean Shirley and those three little kittens of Mother Goose fame, also wears mittens to protect her hands.

Laura Orphelia

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. W. W. CONRAD

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

La Cerele Francaise, '23-'24-'25-'26; History Club, '23-'26; Home Economics Club, '23-'24; MacDowell Club, '23-'26.

She never bewails her bad grades (if she has any); she never struts her "A's" (she does get them), but goes through life apparently having the motto, "No one ever spoke of his troubles too lightly." We know that she could tell us something if we could get her to talk. Perhaps we don't have the right key to wind her up, because Lucille and "Lib" seem to be able to keep her running when with them. Or perhaps she wishes to hear us say—"Parlez-vous Francais?"

Grace Virginia

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. B. T. COX

WINTERVILLE, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

French Club, '22-'24; History Club, '22-'26; Hikers, '24-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Hockey Team, '24-'25; MacDowell Club, '22-'26.

Grace has a big diamond and a little voice. But Grace's actions speak louder than her words. "Grace excels in the culinary art. She has spent hours in the Home Economics Department learning to be a good cook. The diamond answers: 'She will need this valuable experience soon!'"

Rowena

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. C. D. CROMER
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

I. R. S. Board, '25-'26.

Salem is indeed indebted to Hollins for the valuable gift she sent us in '23. Her loss is our gain, for Rowena means a lot to Salem. Even at the end of a hard working day she looks as though she had just stepped out of a bandbox. She is just like granulated sugar—so refined.

Rachel Darden

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT W. DAVIS
SEVEN SPRINGS, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

President Y. W. C. A., '25-'26; Presidents' Forum, '25-'26; Executive Board I. R. S., '25-'26; Honorary Member Student Council, '25-'26; Head of Hockey, '24-'25; Annual Staff, '24-'25; Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '24-'25; Baseball Varsity, '23-'24-'25; Baseball Team, '22-'23; Winner of "S"; Hockey Varsity, '22-'23-'24-'25; Vice-President Home Economics Club, '24-'25; Home Economics Club, '22-'26; History Club, '22-'23; French Club, '22-'23.

What would Salem do without "Mama Rachel"? She presides over the Y. W. C. A. meetings; she chaperones the freshmen; she sympathizes with the sick, and she even curls Dean Stipe's hair occasionally, we have heard. Be quiet and we'll tell you another secret: She tucks the St. G. president in bed every single night! Oh, we're mighty glad "Seven Pumps" sent Rachel to us.

Ruth

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. J. A. EFIRD
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Class Honors, '23-'24; "Salemite" Staff, '24-'26; Assistant Business Manager "Salemite," '24-'25; Senior Marshal, '24-'25; Class Cheer Leader, '25-'26; "Sights and Insights" Staff, '25-'26; Vice-President Class, '25-'26; Vice-President I. R. S., '25-'26; Secretary N. C. C. P. A., '25-'26; I. R. S. Board, '24-'25; Pierrette Players, '25-'26; Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24-'25.

Ruth is the kind of girl that makes us want to start in on something like "to see her is to love her," but we'll refrain because we hate that kind of stuff. She thinks everything is "perfectly marv" from teaching history at the high school to an invitation to a Salem supper. When we see Ruth during exams, curfless and weary, we wonder how she ever found the time to capture the one and only co-ed that Salem can boast. She gets lots of "A's," but we rather think she likes the letters J. C. P. just as well.

Mary Kathryn

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. G. T. EMMART
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Volley Ball, '23; "Sights and Insights" Staff, '24-'25; Chairman Executive Committee Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24-'25, '25-'26; MacDowell Club, '25-'26.

Kathryn's present desire is to live on the farm. She has already begun her career by "raking in" the "A's" at Salem. But "raking in" the "A's" is not all that Kathryn has done, and she's had lots of fun teasing the girls, too. Here's to Kathryn, a good sport indeed!

Eva Louise

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. E. B. FLOWERS
MOUNT OLIVE, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

Theta Delta Phi; President I. R. S., '25-'26; Vice-President Student Council, '25-'26; Presidents' Forum, '25-'26; Art Editor "Sights and Insights," '24-'25-'26; Secretary Student Council '24-'25; Home Economics Club, '22-'26; Hikers, '23-'26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23-'24; Head of Hiking, '24-'25; Student Council, '23-'24; Hockey Team, '23-'24; Wearer of "S."

When you look at Eva, you think that she must spend all her time keeping that "school girl complexion," but if you notice the little Dutch figures in this book you may be sure that Eva helped draw some of them. She has tried to subdue her artistic temperament and learn to be an excellent housekeeper. However, after six weeks in Practice House, we feel that Eva will choose Art as her vocation.

Connie

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. J. W. FOWLER
MONROE, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Vice-President Y. W. C. A., '25-'26; Student Council, '25-'26; Fire Department, '25-'26; Hikers, '22-'23-'24; Hockey Team, '22-'23; Basketball Team, '24-'25; Treasurer Y. W. C. A., '24-'25; Baseball Team, '24-'25.

When "Dean's valet" comes down the hall scurrying,

We all stop our chattering and hurrying;
For to her we must listen we know,
Or else she might not approve the show,
Teaching piano seems to be her hobby, too,
In fact, there's not many things she doesn't do.
She is always ready and willing to aid
Those who are "down and out," as 'tis said.

Evelyn Johnston

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM J. GRAHAM
BURLINGTON, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

President Glee Club, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A. Choir, '25-'26; Treasurer Home Economics Club, '24-'25; Advertising Manager "Sights and Insights," '25-'26; MacDowell Club Board, '25-'26; Assistant Business Manager "Sights and Insights," '24-'25; History Club, '25; Student Council, '24-'25; I. R. S. Committee, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '23-'26.

We have often wondered if Evelyn's fairy godmother didn't forget to bestow the fabled silver spoon upon her and give her a can of "Old Dutch" instead, for ever since we've known her she's been "chasing dirt." We wonder, too, why she's always worried about her lessons, for she never flunks. And another thing about Evelyn, she surely can tell you the daily news.

Annevia Elizabeth

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. L. M. HAHN
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

History Club, '22-'26; Home Economics Club, '22-'26; MacDowell Club, '22-'26.

Those of us who are fortunate enough to have classes with "Lib" know that there isn't a single subject that she can't orate upon at length. We believe that she has the most interesting neighbors in the world. At least, they've had wonderful and varied experiences. "Lib" can surely sew, and she is always ready to help everyone.

May

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL HAIRSTON
WENONDA, VA.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Business Manager "Salemite," '25-'26; Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '25-'26; Circulation Manager "Salemite," '24-'25; Baseball Team, '24-'25; Wearer of "S"; Blue Ridge Delegate, '25; Vice-President Home Economics Club, '24; Volley Ball Team, '24-'25; Volley Ball Varsity, '24-'25; Hockey Team, '24-'25; Virginia Club, '24-'25; History Club, '24-'25-'26; Tennis Club, '24-'25-'26; Home Economics Club, '26; Hikers, '24-'26.

May is the Shylock of the Senior Class. Whenever there is money to be collected, May must collect it. Her business ability is shown further by the fact that she piloted the "Salemite" through its financial seas, and brought it safely into the harbor of solvency. She is also the only mathematical major, and in this position has won distinction and honor. There is nothing of the relentless business woman about her, though, because in spite of her business ability everybody likes May.

Elsie Emma

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. J. T. HARRIS
NEW BERN, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Delta Sigma Delta; I. R. S., '22-'23; Vice-President Class, '23, '24; Pan-Hellenic Representative, '23-'24-'25-'26; Secretary Class, '24-'25; Class Prophet, '25-'26; Song Leader, '25-'26.

If you hear a voice warbling like a negro just after dinner, you may be sure it's Elsie. She can imitate a negro to perfection. Elsie has entertained many of the girls at Salem in this fashion. She declares, too, that she has had the very best roommate in the entire college. See Elsie as to the qualities of her roommate, but hear her play the piano to judge her musical ability.

Irma

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. W. W. HEATON
TALLAPOOSA, GA.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Delta Sigma Delta; Secretary Class, '25-'26; Advertising Manager "Sights and Insights," '23-'24; Head of Clogging, '24-'25.

"See that girl over there with the black curls?" "Yes." "Well, that's Irma Heaton." "Who is she?" "Oh, a girl with a perfect pitch, a leader in any musical entertainment that is being prepared, a lover of going up town, and of dopes at O'Hanlon's. That's Irma!"

Sadie

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. N. A. HOLLEMAN
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Le Cercle Francais, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; History Club, '25-'26; MacDowell Club, '23-'26.

Since Mademoiselle Sadie is a French major and insists upon having her normal courses in French, we are sure she would prefer her write-up in French. (I hope, however, she will pardon mistakes.)

Elle est très gentille, et très intelligente, et très charmante. Tout le monde qui la sait l'aime beaucoup. Nous voulons qu'elle sera toujours très contente.

Evelyn

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. W. H. MCGEHEE
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Evelyn is like Br'er Rabbit, "She lies low and says nothing." Nevertheless, she is one of the finest girls we know. "There's music in the air"—we know that Evelyn is near, for she is a real musician. Who knows—we may find her in "Who's Who of 1950."

May Elizabeth

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. J. I. NEWMAN
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

MacDowell Club, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; History Club, '25-'26.

How could the Off-Campus Students' room have survived without "Lib"? She sympathizes with the broken-hearted, and gives advice on teaching delinquents. We're mighty glad N. C. W. sent Lib to us in her Junior year!

Margaret Elizabeth

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. JOHN T. NICHOLS
WINDSOR, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

President History Club, '25-'26; Second Vice-President Student Council, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '24-'25-'26; Le Cercle Francais, '24-'25; History Club, '23-'24-'25-'26; Hikers, '24-'25-'26; Hockey Team, '23-'24-'25; Volley Ball Team, '23-'24-'25.

"Never put off until tomorrow what can be done today" is Margaret's guiding principle. She is a regular H. G. Wells when it comes to history, and ably serves as president of the History Club. Her honesty, sincerity, and dependability make her a valuable member of Student Council.

Lucile

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. REUBEN REID
LEAKSVILLE, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

Alpha Phi Kappa; President Student Council, '25-'26; I. R. S., '23-'24-'25-'26; Home Economics Club, '22-'26; Executive Committee Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24-'25; Undergraduate Representative, '24-'25; Secretary Y. W. C. A., '23-'24; Senior Marshal, '23-'24; Presidents' Forum, '24-'25-'26; Student Council, '24-'25-'26; S. I. A. S. G. Conference, '24-'25; Class President, '24-'25; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26; Blue Ridge Delegate, '23-'25.

We have been holding our breath for fear our "SteGee" president would be carried to "court" at Leaksville before she graduated. But she is with us with her ability and fun. When she finally settles down in Leaksville we feel sure that Rachel will apply for a position in the schools there, for we can't imagine Rachel not being near to "mother" Lucille.

Cosa Elizabeth

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. E. S. REYNOLDS
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

History Club, '23; Hikers' Club, '23; French Club, '23-'26; Honor Roll, '23.

Jumping from one college to another seems to be Elizabeth's hobby. However, we are proud that she returned to Salem to receive her final degree. If we examine her report and see her long list of "A's" on English, we feel sure that Elizabeth will make herself known to us later.

Mary Alta

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. SPENCER ROBBINS
ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Theta Delta Pi; President Athletic Association, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26; Pierrette Players, '25-'26; Testator, '25-'26; Fire Chief, '24-'25; Senior Marshal, '24-'25; Treasurer Athletic Association, '23-'24; Presidents' Forum, '24-'25-'26; Basketball Team, '24-'25-'26; Volley Ball Varsity, '22-'23; MacDowell Club, '24-'26; Hockey Team, '23-'24; Baseball Team, '23-'24; Hikers' Club, '23-'24.

"Bahe," in some respects, is a most fitting name for the above mentioned, since in her sunny and happy disposition she resembles a delightful child, yet her unusual ability in music and athletics certainly show a talent. The latter, together with her sunny disposition, have won for her many friends.

Alpha Morton

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. HARRY L. SHANER
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

President Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '21-'26; Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24-'25; Presidents' Forum, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Mc-Dowell Club, '25-'26; I. H. S., '23-'24-'25-'26; Advertising Manager "Sights and Insights," '23-'24; Vice-President Class, '22-'23.

If "S's" were awarded for talking fast, we are sure that "Shaner" would have one with several stars. Although we gather, from announcements made in chapel, that Alpha visits the movies quite frequently, she still has time for the Societas Scientiarum Salemensis. She is an able president of this organization. Her brunette beauty plus her strong personality equals success.

Mary Elizabeth

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. D. R. SHAW
LUMBERTON, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Head of Volley Ball, '25-'26; Humor Editor "Sights and Insights," '25-'26; History Club, '24-'25-'26; Student Council, '25-'26; Hkers, '25-'26; Volley Ball Team, '23-'25; Volley Ball Varsity, '23-'25; Baseball, '25-'25; Wearer of "S"; Winner of Sweater.

"Jigger," as joke editor of the annual, did not have to go far to find her first joke, as proved by her ability to amuse and entertain her English class. When you want to find the best hearted girl in the world, who is ready for just anything worth while, page Mary Elizabeth Shaw.

Anna Witherington

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. P. J. SOUTHERLAND
MOUNT OLIVE, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Theta Delta Pi; President French Club, '25-'26; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25-'26; Class Historian, '25-'26; Class Treasurer, '23-'24; Vice-President, '21-'25; Student Council, '23-'25; Basketball Team, '22-'26; Basketball Varsity, '23; French Club, '23-'26; Presidents' Forum, '25-'26; Baseball Team, '22-'23; Tennis Club, '22-'23; Hikers' Club, '22-'23; Wearer of "S"; Winner of Sweater.

Mademoiselle Southerland seems to have two names. On the class rolls she is Miss Anna Southerland, but the merchants up town took it upon themselves to give her a new name, "Miss Anna Featherbone." Good natured as she is, however, Anna does not seem to object. She is the well qualified president of the French Club.

Mary Lee

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. W. FRANK TAYLOR
JOHNSON CITY, TENN.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Vice-President French Club, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26; Student Council, '25-'26; French Club, '24-'26; Glee Club, '25-'26.

Mary Lee has a brogue all her own. She rolls her "r's" like a Yankee, but yet she is a true Southern girl. Firm and steady as the Rock of Gibraltar, she never fails in anything she attempts.

Myrtle Virginia

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. A. VALENTINE
MOUNT AIRY, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

Student Council, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A., '25-'26; Varsity Baseball, '24-'25; Baseball Team, '24-'25; Hikers, '24-'25; Volley Ball Team, '23-'24-'25; Baseball Team, '23-'24; Hockey Team, '23-'24-'25; Volley Ball Varsity, '23-'24.

We don't have to wait until February fourteenth for our Valentine. We have had one for four years, and we couldn't do without her. Myrtle is always ready and willing to do her part.

Janice

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. STANLEY R. WARNER
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

President Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Presidents' Forum, '25-'26; Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '24-'25-'26; MacDowell Club, '23-'24-'25-'26.

If you are tired and want to refresh yourself, there is no need to drink Coca-Cola; just go talk to Janice. One of our classmates who has fallen by the way aptly put it when she said, "I like Janice because she is so witty," and that's one of the main reasons she is so popular. At first glance she appears rather frivolous, but when you know her, you realize that she's like Maxwell House coffee, "Good to the last drop."

Augusta Whitsett

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. JAMES WEBB

WADESBORO, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

French Club, '22, '23, '24, '25, '26; Hikers' Club, '22-'23; Glee Club, '25; History Club, '22; MacDowell Club, '23, '24, '25.

When Augusta came to Salem, she thought she would be teaching after two years of college work. Her home town must have spurred her on, however, for she has surely "waded" through German and chemistry courses since that time. In spite of everything she marched with the Seniors of '26.

Anne Eloise

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM B. WILLIS

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Science

Business Manager "Sights and Insights," '25-'26; President Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, '25; I. R. S. Committee, '24-'25; "Salemite" Staff, '24; Presidents' Forum, '24-'25; Secretary MacDowell Club, '25-'26; Assistant Editor-in-Chief "Sights and Insights," '24-'25; Hikers' Club, '24, '25, '26; Assistant in Chemistry, '24-'26.

Chemistry Experiment No. 12

October 2, 1925

General Properties of Eloise Willis

References: Mr. Charles H. Higgins, Mr. Roy J. Cambell,

Process: I filled three test tubes—one with brains, one with persistence, and one with energy. To this mixture I added personality and willingness to work.

Conclusion: I conclude that because of these three elements, brains, persistence, and energy, Eloise Willis has a high scholastic standing. Also I conclude that her personality wins for her many friends, and her willingness to work makes her an excellent business manager and laboratory assistant.

Adelaide

DAUGHTER OF

MR. AND MRS. W. C. WRIGHT
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Music

Adelaide is the Falstaff of our class. In her serious moments, when she is not cutting the fool, she is busily engaged with the piano. She says little of her accomplishments, yet accomplishes much. In later life, we expect to hear from her in the musical world.

Sara Carolyn

DAUGHTER OF

PROF. AND MRS. M. A. YOST
WEAVERVILLE, N. C.

Candidate for Bachelor of Arts

"Sights and Insights" Staff, '24-'25-'26; College Orchestra, '23-'24-'25-'26; House President Main Hall, '23-'24; Class Honors, '23-'24; Hikers, '23-'24-'25; Treasurer Student Council, '24-'25; Secretary and Treasurer Le Cercle Français, '24-'25; House President College Extension, '25-'26; I. R. S., '25-'26.

The Class of '26 boasts of a Kreisler-Sara Yost. Her musical ability was proved when Dean chose her as Miss Read's assistant. She can certainly make a violin talk, and through its plaintive whisperings we are given an insight into her lovable character. When the orchestra plays "Sara's Gone," this June, Salem will have parted with another one of its jewels.

CLASS POEM

*Thine ancient bricks whose color time has dulled;
The ivy clambering o'er thine aged walls;
The straight, tall graceful pillars at the door;
The honored history of thy stately halls;*

*The tender blue of all thy morning mists;
The kindly gracious patriarchal trees;
The birds which build their nests anew each spring;
Oh, Alma Mater, thanks to you for these.*

*Such things we learned to love the while we stayed
Within the shelter of thy kindness.
But still for more than these we honor thee,
For more than these thy well-loved name we bless.*

*For priceless legacies you freely gave;
For great good gifts so lavishly bestowed;
For seeds of thought and aspirations high
Within our youthful hearts so proudly sowed;*

*For fabulous ambitions and for dreams;
For quiet meditation, calm and peace;
For all the sorrow and the happiness;
For strenuous days and rest, when work might cease;*

*For knowing what is worthy, what is not;
For faith and truth and hope and power to see;
Oh, Alma Mater, for these greater gifts
Our greater gifts we offer up to thee.*

History of the Class of 1926

UNDOUBTEDLY each member of the Class of twenty-six will review her past four years according to her own feelings and point of view, recalling vividly certain joyful occasions, and completely forgetting others. Still, there are some events in our life at Salem which all of us will recall.

In the fall of nineteen hundred and twenty-two a group of very ignorant freshmen entered Salem's portals. There were one hundred and ten of us; green but very determined.

The first really enjoyable occasion that we as a class attended was the reception given by Mrs. Rondthaler in our honor.

The bold, bad sophomores lived up to their reputation by inflicting upon us three days of despotic and terrorizing initiation, which were followed by an elaborate feast as a peace offering. This was held "over the hill," and needless to say the two classes enjoyed it immensely.

Our sister class, the juniors, gave a delightful party for us. We, in turn, wanted to show our appreciation, and invited our big sisters to be our guests at a luncheon. This affair was planned in fear and trembling, as it was our first social attempt.

The next event of importance during our freshman year was the basketball game on Thanksgiving. At this game we caught the long-talked of Salem Spirit. Although as freshmen we had other and varied experiences, we settled down after the Christmas holidays to hard and earnest work.

As sophomores we adopted an air of sophistication. Instead of forcing the freshmen to undergo the terrors of initiation, we gave a circus with them as chief actors.

SIGHTS AND

INSIGHTS

This took place on the afternoon of October the sixteenth, and was indeed a gala affair.

In athletics we were very enthusiastic. At Thanksgiving we joyously proved ourselves victorious over the dreaded freshmen. Then, with determination, we battled with the juniors and were again victorious, thus winning the Welfare Athletic Cup.

We were honored by our sisters, the seniors, who invited us to take part in Hat Burning and Ivy Planting.

When we came back in the fall of nineteen hundred and twenty-four as juniors, we began to feel more like civilized human beings and less like green, homesick freshmen. We felt very important over the thought of becoming seniors.

As every junior knows, the main object of existence is always the Junior-Senior Banquet. Much time was spent accumulating wealth for this occasion. Many parties and stunts were given for this purpose, and as a reward the banquet was a great success.

The Thanksgiving games came again, but we were unsuccessful and resolved to make a harder fight than ever in our senior year.

Then came the last Friday afternoon, on which the seniors presented us with our caps and gowns. We accepted our obligations to our college with sincere resolutions.

Thus as we filed down the aisle of Memorial Hall for the formal opening of Salem's one hundred and fifty-fourth session, we had a distinct feeling of awe. We were more dignified and serious-minded than ever. As a class, we tried to realize some of the ideals that Salem upheld for us. The different duties and pleasures of that senior year brought us into closer touch with our Alma Mater and with each other.

And now that the goal of graduation has been reached, we stand upon a new threshold. Reminiscing, we are happy; contemplating the future, we are happier. Whatever fame and fortune we acquire in later years we owe to our Alma Mater.

Class Prophecy

THE FACE of the old clock in Main Hall seemed to smile down benevolently on the girls as they passed in and out. And why should it not be happy, for was not this the reunion of the Class of 1926? It had been three or four years since the ancient timepiece had beheld many of those present.

The clock was ticking busily away with apparently no other idea in its round old head than to hurry the minutes along, but in reality it was very much interested in this gathering.

"Whatever became of Mary Lee Taylor?" the old clock pondered.

As if in answer to this loudly ticked question, two girls paused nearby, and the following conversation ensued:

"I wonder if Mary Lee will be here. You know she's teaching in Johnson City now."

"No, I hadn't heard that, but I just learned that Rosa Caldwell has forsaken her post as editor of the Concord paper for a few days in order to be here."

"I'm so glad," came the answer, "for Lucile Reid is here, too. She has just returned from South America. You know she went in for science and that sort of thing very seriously. Lucile says she heard Christine Brooks sing in the opera in Buenos Aires."

There were a few more words and the pair moved on, leaving the old teller-of-time almost bending forward in an effort to catch the remainder of the conversation. Such interest was very natural, for here was news of its old friends.

The clock had settled back to its usual steady ticking, when there was a chorus of delighted squeals as a group of girls excitedly embraced one another, asking and answering questions all the while.

The pendulum seemed to swing faster in excitement as it heard these words:

"Why, Connie Fowler, you don't mean that you are teaching here?"

"No, but I'm Dean Shirley's assistant. Sara Yost is here, too, teaching violin, and we have the best times."

"Speaking of teaching, Eva Flowers has charge of the Home Economics Department of the Mount Olive High School, and Anna Southerland is also teaching there."

There was a lull in the conversation as several of the girls moved on. The old clock ticked away in delight at this news of old friends, but its curiosity was not yet satisfied. Therefore, with much interest it listened to this further conversation:

"Have you heard of Grace Cox? It's quite a romance; she is to be married in two weeks, after having known the man only a month."

"Yes, that's fine, and Katherine Emmart and Sadie Holleman are teaching in the High School."

By this time there was quite a crowd gathered near the eavesdropping timepiece; the commotion almost drowning out its faithful tick-tock.

"Rachel Davis! How in the world did you get away from Johns Hopkins? I'm so glad to see you!"

"Babe Robbins and Elsie Barnes just came in. They've been coaching athletics in Rocky Mount and Wilson, but I suppose they'll forget for awhile the rivalry between their basketball teams."

"I know Mary Anderson and Sue Carlton will arrive sometime today, for Alpha Shaner saw them in New York while on her wedding trip. Mary is making quite a hit in musical comedy, and Sue is playing the organ in a large church there."

"Eloise Willis and May Hairston are both here. Eloise is the assistant in the Science Department and May is teaching in the Academy. I suppose Salem is a habit with May now."

"Yes, she wrote me about it, and also that Augusta Webb and Myrtle Valentine are to be married the same month."

"The best news of all, though, is the success of the Chautauqua concerts given by Adelaide Wright and her brother. They seem to be charming their audiences all over the United States."

"That reminds me, Miriam Brietz is a foreign correspondent on the New York Times. We had a cable from her and Evelyn McGehee, who is studying piano in Paris, expressing their regrets at not being here."

"I'm so sorry Janice Warner couldn't come either, but she wrote that her family could not spare her long enough to make the trip."

"So many of the girls couldn't come back, but I don't suppose we could expect them all."

"It's lucky that so many of the Winston girls are staying home this winter. Ruth Efrd and Rowena Cromer are doing splendidly in welfare work here."

"Margaret Nichols just told me that while chaperoning one of her Western tours she saw Evelyn Graham and Carrie Mae Baldwin at the 'Green Tree Tea Room' in Los Angeles. Evelyn is hostess and Carrie Mae sings. It's still a question whether the main attraction to the university men is food or Evelyn and Carrie Mae."

"Have you been in Elizabeth Brooks' exclusive style shop? They say she has quite put Montaldo's out of business. Lillian Bennet is a partner in the firm, too, I hear."

"Elizabeth Hahn and Elizabeth Shaw are both at George Washington University Hospital in Washington. Elizabeth Hahn is one of the dietitians, and Elizabeth Shaw will become a graduate nurse this year."

By twos and threes the girls moved down the hall, leaving the old clock in suspense as to the whereabouts of others of whom it wanted news.

The silence was finally broken by these words:

"You'll never in the world guess what I just saw in The Atlanta Journal in the library! It was an account of Irma Heaton's wedding, and also a picture of her and her husband. He is a Spanish nobleman whom she met in Madrid while touring Europe. The account says he was quite mad about her and followed her all over Europe."

SIGHTS AND INSIGHTS

"Well, she has at last really become a Spanish señorita, but she is not the only one of our class who has attained her highest ambition. Clemmon Brown is making her debut on the concert stage in Berlin this winter. Elsie Harris was one of the attendants at Irma's wedding. She came down from New York, where she is starring in a new musical comedy."

"Ruth Clark Brown, or rather Dr. Brown, is going to give us a lecture this afternoon on parliamentary law. She is considered one of the foremost women lecturers in America, and it was only by a stroke of good luck that she could be here."

"Lucile Burke is teaching in Greensboro and is coming this morning. That makes one more to add to our diminished number."

"Somebody just told me Helen Griffin is giving her kindergarten an extra holiday and will be here on the same train."

"Both Elizabeth Reynolds and Elizabeth Newman are married and living in Baltimore. They're coming and bringing their husbands. And, by the way, Elizabeth Reynolds' husband is a Methodist minister."

"Ophelia Conrad is becoming quite wealthy by means of her bantam poultry farm, I hear. It is on the outskirts of Winston-Salem; so she will be here, I suppose."

The ringing of the bell, announcing lunch, interrupted the conversation of the group. As the last girl filed out the door the ancient clock settled down with a satisfied sigh, as if to say, "I always knew those girls would amount to something."

STATE: NORTH CAROLINA
COUNTY: FORSYTH

WE, THE SENIOR CLASS of 1926, aforesaid state and county, being of sound mind and in full possession of all our faculties, having gone the "last mile" with our beloved instructors and under classmen preparatory to enrolling ourselves in the great School of Life, do hereby make, declare, and publish this document as our Last Will and Testament.

First: We do will to the Class of 1930 our class colors, and also our abundance of pep and "Salem Spirit."

Second: I, Helen Griffin, leave to the incoming senior president all my responsibilities, troubles and praises.

Third: We, Adelaide Wright, Elsie Harris, Clemmon Brown, Connie Fowler, Rowena Cromer and Sue Carlton, will to Memorial Hall an Ampico to take our places.

Fourth: Our charming and helpful teacher, Miss Osborne, we will to the next class that is fortunate enough to get this "Florida Blossom."

Fifth: We, Ruth Eford, Eva Flowers, Anna Southerland, Evelyn Graham, Rachel Davis, Myrtle Valentine, Janice Warner, Alpha Shaner and Lucile Reid, being the only members of the class able to do so, will to the bobbed-haired members of the Class of '27 our hair; thus granting the privilege of assuming dignity on becoming seniors.

Sixth: I, Babe Robbins, will and bequeath to the incoming president of the Athletic Association the right to have intercollegiate basketball games with whomever she desires.

Seventh: We, Carrie Mae Baldwin, Elsie Barnes and Christine Brooks, will and bequeath to Dean Shirley a radio set, so that he may still hear our voices.

Eighth: I, Lucile Reid, bestow my purple robe upon the next Student Government president, with the hope that she will never tire of wearing it.

Ninth: We, the Senior Class, will to the love-sick juniors the desire to become dignified.

Tenth: To the bold, bad sophomores we bequeath all the good old pep and school spirit that we ever possessed.

Eleventh: To the green young freshmen we leave our abundant store of knowledge, i. e., not only book learning, but also common sense.

Twelfth: We, Ruth Clark Brown and Mary Anderson, bequeath our daily walks to town to any of the incoming seniors who may enjoy them half as much as we.

Thirteenth: We, the Senior Class, bequeath to the incoming Senior Class the love and vigilance of both Mrs. Rondthaler and Miss Stipe.

Fourteenth: For our Alma Mater we wish the best years ever since 1772.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this thirteenth day of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-five.

MARY ALTA ROBBINS, Testator.

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by Mary Alta Robbins, the testator, for the Class of 1926, as their last will and testament in the presence of us, who, at her request, and in the presence of each other, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses.

HELEN GRIFFIN, President.

IRMA HEATON, Secretary.

*Drink, drink, drink—
 To the Junior team we all give a toast tonight.
 Drink, drink, drink,
 To the Junior Class that stands for the good and right.
 Here's a hope that our fame will abound
 Through all the college and campus around,
 And that our colors, the black and the gold,
 Will always stand for our glory untold.
 Drink, drink, let the toast start,
 Salem, we each pledge our heart.
 Drink, drink, drink,
 To our Alma Mater each Junior will drink.
 Let's drink!*

History of the Class of '27

AS the old clock on the church struck ten on the morning of September the twelfth, nineteen twenty-three, the chapel procession started from Main Hall and the illustrious Class of '27 began its career with one hundred and eight members, fresh, but determined to surmount all the obstacles which would come in their path.

Eventually the terrible days of probation were passed, and the freshmen experienced the joy of freedom, and also took their first step into the social life at Salem; for they were given a party by the Student Council, a reception by Dr. and Mrs. Rondthaler, and a dance by the Juniors. In athletics the freshmen took a very prominent part, and played with enthusiasm and pep. Much to their disappointment, they were unable to be the winners at the Thanksgiving basketball games; nevertheless, they were good losers and profited by their experiences.

When the fall of nineteen twenty-four arrived, the Freshmen girls once more returned to Salem, as bold and bad sophomores. They realized that theirs was a responsible position, for the freshmen of that year had to be trained; but soon this task was accomplished and the sophomores began to practice once again for the Thanksgiving games, and occasionally they would be seen studying. Much to their delight, they were victorious over the freshmen in the Thanksgiving game, but their noble sisters, the seniors, were the victors of the day. In the spring of that year the seniors were entertained at a picnic, and thus ended the activities of the sophomores.

This year when they returned they found their number greatly diminished, but they took heart, because they were told that it was quality and not quantity that counts in life. They felt the responsibility of being big sisters to the freshmen, and in order to let them know that they were truly their friends they gave them a party in the "Hut." Now they are once again busy with basketball, but chiefly with raising money for the entertainment of the seniors, and they are certain that under the leadership of their capable officers the year nineteen twenty-five and twenty-six is going to be a notable one for the Class of '27.

History of Sophomore Class

WE arrived at Salem College in the fall of 1924, as one of the greenest freshman classes ever known. Realizing that we knew nothing, we looked with awe and bewilderment upon all upper classmen, and also upon our surroundings. With the able assistance of the Council girls and our sister class we passed through many weary weeks of trials and tribulations, weeks that are usually known as probation. Finally we were free from all such restraints. Our joy was short-lived, however, because exam week was due. Much electricity was spent during this time. Finally, after a desperate struggle, exams were overcome and became a dim event of the past. Looking back over the year, considering hardships and pleasures, we realized that it was an important milestone in our journey of life.

Once more we have returned to our Alma Mater. This time not as green freshmen, but as all-wise sophomores. This year we have experienced great joy in realizing that there are some in our own environment who are supposed to know less than we. After selling all the radiators, floors, and other vendable articles to the numerous freshmen, we settled down in order to conquer new fields. Every organization must have good leaders, therefore we chose Catherine Edgerton, president; Dot Schallert, vice-president; Mary Ardrey Stough, secretary; Virginia Welch, treasurer, to have the honor of leading the noble Class of '28.

The first notable event of the year was the holding of the first swimming meet. We won the meet, but the valiant freshmen ran us a close second. In basketball, we repeated this success. In our studies we have become more diligent than ever, due to the fact that our instructors are afraid that in some way we might get the impression that we are taking a rest at some winter resort. Taking everything into consideration, we feel assured that our faculty will shed many tears when the present Sophomore Class is no more, on account of the genius and ability of its members.

*Yes sir, we're the greenest,
 No sir, don't mean meanest,
 Yes sir, we're the Freshman Class.
 Yes ma'am, we're still living,
 We're glad it's Thanksgiving,
 And we're glad we're here tonight.
 By the way, oh, by the way,
 We want to tell you just who we are,
 Yes sir, we're the greenest,
 No sir, don't mean meanest,
 Yes sir, we're the Freshman Class.*

Class History

TATION S. A. L. E. M., Winston-Salem, N. C., broadcasting. We have a varied program tonight. The first number is a vocal solo entitled: "Yes, Sir, We Are Freshmen," by Miss Green, the great singer whiz-y-st-a-c-buzz-eck (Mr. and Mrs. Parent, listening in: "Goodness gracious, just as the program gets interesting there is static in the air). Ck-o-xyz-Mrs. Red, nee Black, editor of "College News," will give us the latest sport items. Mrs. Red says:

"Our sympathy in the basketball tournament lay with the class of '29, but alas! in an exciting game on Thanksgiving Day, which was attended by many people and a great deal of noise, the Sophomores beat the Freshmen and won the championship. The Freshmen, however, revenged themselves and retrieved their honor in the Volleyball tournament. They won—buss-yxtu-st-c-k (Mr. Parent: "Good, I guess they won. Mother, didn't daughter play on that team?")

"Our Social News" is the next number on the program. This will be presented by Miss Freshy Mann:

"The first important event of the season was the party given for the Misses New Girls during Hallowe'en Week. It was a splendid get-together party, and everyone had a wonderful time. The next important happening was the Thanksgiving banquet in honor of the Misses Basket and Ball. It was one of the most successful ever held, and everyone agreed that it was a splendid banquet. Next in order was the Math party. This party was the first regular meeting of the Mathematics Club after the election of the officers. Amid Christmas decorations and Christmas spirit hilarious games were played and appropriate gifts distributed. The next-let-nus-uvw-geek-duzzyx result of elections by Miss Polly Ticks:

"Miss Lillyan Newell was elected president by a large majority.

"Miss Mary Miller Falkner was unanimously named as vice-president. Miss Anne Hairston was also unanimously elected secretary.

"Miss Jane Little was elected treasurer and Miss Margaret Sharp historian.

"Miss Eleanor Chase was chosen as class teacher.

This is S. A. L. E. M. signing off at 12:06, correct time. Good night. (Mr. Parent: "Ho hum! Let's go to bed.")

ORGANIZATIONS

The Presidents' Forum

The Presidents' Forum is composed of the presidents or heads of all the organizations in college. The purpose of the forum is to discuss all questions that are of vital importance to the college as a whole.

The Presidents' Forum consists of the heads of the following organizations: President of Salem College as honorary member, President of Student government, President of Y. W. C. A., President of Athletic Association, Under-graduate Representative, Chairman of I. R. S., Editor of SIGHTS AND INSIGHTS, Editor of Salemite, President of History Club, President of Le Cercle Francais, President of Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, President of the Home Economics Club, President of Pierrette Players, President of Senior Class, President of Junior Class, President of Sophomore Class, President of Freshman Class, Fire Chief and Song Leader.

THE Student Self-Government Association is composed of the entire Student Body. The purpose of the organization is to develop self control and loyalty in the students, to instil in them the highest principles of honor and self development, and to build strong character.

The executive powers of the organization are embodied in the Student Council. The president, the two vice-presidents and four representatives are elected from the Senior Class, the secretary and the treasurer and three representatives are chosen from the Junior Class. From both of the two remaining classes there are three representatives. The house presidents serve as members of the council and the president of the Y. W. C. A. is an honorary member, who has the power to suggest but not the power to vote.

The Student Self-Government Association of Salem College was organized in 1914, and today it may be considered the most important organization in school, because of its influence for the individual advancement of each student.

The Young Women's Christian Association is the one Christian organization on our campus to which every Salem girl belongs. This most vital organization is here to be her friend, especially through the first trying weeks of school.

During the year meetings are held regularly in the living room of Alice Clewell Building. Every girl in college is at some time during the year given an opportunity to take part in these services and is thus given a chance to show her interests and to develop a deeper and richer side to her varied life. At these meetings there are speakers of merit from our own campus and from the outside, who talk in a most helpful and uplifting manner.

No! The Y. W. C. A. is not narrow. Did you not enjoy those birthday parties given by the Social Committee? Did you not like to play with those children at the Children's Home? Did you not delight in being their Santa Claus? Did you not enjoy carrying sunshine into the Old Ladies' Home? Did you not feel at innumerable times repaid for teaching those industrial girls? Did you not enjoy those delicious eats from the "Y" Store? And lastly, did you not just swell with pride over the things that your Association was doing and feel that it was a part of you and that when it grew you grew, and when you grew it grew?

Oh yes, and we work with the city Y. W. too. Through this organization we received much information along industrial and civic lines.

The Y. W. considers it one of her greatest privileges to call her members from their cares for a few minutes of song and prayer at the end of the day. This service, held in every hall, is known as evening watch.

Gives Picture; Presents Play

Minuet," With Miss And Zora Fey.
The scene was laid in France at the time of the Reign of Terror. The Marquis is scorned, in the hour, rough room, which serves him as a prison. He is calm and unafraid, although it is only a matter of a few hours before he will be led to the guillotine. He is reading and meditating on his past life at that hour when he was a favorite with courtiers and ladies, and on his present helplessness and friendless position, when the jailer enters in with a request. He marvels at the unbridled rage of the Marquis who is so near his death. He tells him that a lady is below, asking to see him, and intimates that only for a price will he allow his prisoner to see her. The Marquis contemptuously slings him his golden snuff box and the lady is allowed to enter. She proves to be the Marquis' own wife whom he had married in haste when he had had but two hours wholly different to each other and indeed had not seen each other in a long time. The Marquis' eyes now appear indifferent to her husband's fate. He is amazed to find that she had taken the liberty to flee from him, and that she had become a President of the College, and had been elected to the position of Miss Zora Fey.

Dr. Moss Addresses Students In Chapel

"Person Moss" of Chapel Hill is Welcomed Enthusiastically at Salem.

On Wednesday morning, November 19, the twentieth of the expanded chapel hour, Salem College and Academy were very fortunate in having as speaker Dr. "Person" Moss, as he is affectionately called by large numbers of college students, in one of the most well-known ministers in this part of the south, and his talk was both interesting and inspiring.

Dr. Moss chose as his subject the words of Jesus Christ, "Enter ye in at the narrow gate for many will enter into the kingdom of Heaven." This is one of the profoundest and greatest of his sayings.

The above caption means simply, "I Represent Salem," and these three words form the slogan of one of the outstanding organizations on the college campus. To represent Salem implies various things, among which are loyalty and fidelity to one's Alma Mater. And it was to foster just such qualities that the movement was initiated four years ago. Each year since, there has been elected a committee consisting of on- and off-campus members from the four college classes to represent the student body in the matter of appearance, morals and ideals; and to influence others to uphold the standards of the college.

Miss Stipe has given her time and suggestions toward making I. R. S. more active and more beneficial. It was she who suggested the teaching of extra curricular subjects such as, social usages, social etiquette, social initiative, co-operation and other desired qualities of good citizenship, through the organization of "Social Forum."

Appearance, morals and social usages have come to be the interests of the organization, in which, as in no other club or society, is evinced the unmistakable characteristic of all true Salem daughters—Salem spirit.

The Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club is one of the oldest and most active departmental clubs on the campus of Salem. The club was organized in nineteen hundred and nineteen for a two-fold purpose. The primary purpose is to have a social organization of all those interested in Home Economics and its study. The second purpose is to establish a practice house to take the place of the present apartment which is now used for housekeeping for a period of six weeks each year by the Home Economic Seniors in groups.

This year the club has a membership of one hundred and five from both the student body and faculty. This is the first requirement for membership in the State Association of Home Economic Clubs. The other qualifications we hope to acquire soon, in order to become full-fledged members of the Association.

The programs of the year are varied. They consist of addresses by those who are authorities on questions concerning the household. These meetings occur twice each month and often a social hour takes the place of a lecture.

The History Club

The History Club of Salem College is in its fourth year with the largest membership it has ever had. The purpose of the club is to bring its members in touch with world affairs, both past and present, and at the monthly meetings historical problems are presented by various speakers. Dead Doges and Living Fascisti, Indian Relics and Modern Politics, the Young Turk Movement and the Native Land of Sir Walter Scott—such is a list of subjects taken at random from the History Club program of the last two years. Speakers from in and out of town who are particularly well versed in their own subjects, visit the club and give interesting and instructive lectures. The History Club, however, does not depend entirely on outside talent for its programs. From time to time during the year, students take part in the programs, and it is safe to say that these meetings are not less interesting than others. The membership is open to any student or teacher, and the only requirement for a member is that she have an active interest in important world affairs, both past and present.

The dramatic society of Salem College, the "Pierrette Players," was organized in the fall of 1924, and at once became a busy and effective college club. The membership is limited to twenty students and five faculty members. The students are chosen for their dramatic ability and are selected by the "try-out" method. The limited number of members makes the Society an efficient one, and enables it to uphold its high standards of performance and general accomplishment.

The initial performance of the Pierrette Players was a group of three one-act plays: "Enter the Hero," "Suppressed Desires" and "The Maker of Dreams." In these the Society made its bow to the public and was very kindly received. This performance was followed in the spring by a three-act play, "The Mollusk."

The play committee has already made many interesting plans for this year. The MacDowell Club has asked the Society to present a one-act play at each of its meetings. The plays thus given during the autumn were: "The Minuet," "The Flower of Yeddo," "The Mouse-Trap" and "Where But in America?" In January a three-act play was given, this being the Society's first real dramatic presentation. A number of one-act plays will be featured at the spring meetings of the MacDowell Club, and another long play will be presented near the end of the school year.

The meetings of the Society are instructive as well as entertaining. This term contemporary drama is being studied, and a contemporary play is read at each meeting. A new feature of the meetings, and one which promises to be very attractive, is the report given by some member on the most interesting articles in the "Theater Arts Monthly," to which the Society subscribes.

New members are admitted in October and in February to fill any vacancies in membership which may occur.

The Societas Scientiarum Salemensis, the society of the sciences at Salem, was organized in the fall of 1924. The aim of the society is to unite all those students interested in science, and to stimulate interest in the sciences, both in college and in high schools. The membership is limited to twenty-four. To become a member of the society, a person must submit an application, and be approved by the membership of the society. To retain membership it is necessary to keep a high scholastic standard in all studies.

The program during the year 1925-1926 includes papers, demonstrations and trips to points of interest in the city, such as the American Bakery and the Forsyth Dairy.

The MacDowell Club

MISS CHASE President	PAT BRAWLEY . . . Junior Representative
MR. VARDELL Outgoing President	DOROTHY FRAZIER, Sophomore Representative
ELOISE WILLIS Secretary	CAM BOREN Freshman Representative

MR. HIGGINS Faculty Adviser

The MacDowell Club was organized at Salem in 1919. Having as its purpose the advancement of the cultural and social life of the college, it was fitting that it should take its name from the greatest of American musicians, Edward MacDowell. From time to time the club held meetings of varied interest. Sometimes there were concerts, sometimes lectures, sometimes more or less impromptu entertainments arranged by the members themselves. Early in the history of the club, Mrs. MacDowell appeared under its auspices in a memorable evening devoted to her husband's compositions. In lighter vein was a series of scenes from famous novels, done by class and faculty groups. There have been community sings, picnics, readings and other activities as varied as these.

In 1922 the Club decided to purchase a motion picture machine. This was done with enthusiasm, and the present year leaves the club free from all debt incurred through the great expense of that undertaking. A first-class machine having been installed in Memorial Hall, naturally most of the entertainment became "movies." However, the more cultural aspects of the club have not been allowed to drop out of sight. This year on three different occasions through the co-operation of the college dramatic club, the MacDowell Club has been able to present stage plays of interest and worth. Programs, other than dramatic, have also been planned.

All students in the College, all Academy seniors and all faculty members are eligible to membership. The small fee admits the member to the entire series of entertainments, which is spread over the whole college year. The governing board consists of the usual officers, plus a representative from the faculty and from each class group including the off-campus students. The club is one of the liveliest and most enthusiastic organizations on the campus.

Fire Department

One of the least used, and yet most carefully planned organizations at Salem College is the Fire Department. By means of a relatively simple, though effective and efficient organization, it is possible to have all the girls out of the dormitories in less than two minutes. Two hundred students, realizing the necessity of complete observance of fire rules and regulations, co-operate with a force of twenty-six captains and first lieutenants, and make Salem College prepared in case of fire.

The rules governing fire drill are posted conspicuously in every student's room, and a copy of them appears in the Handbook. The first drill of each year is announced, but unannounced drills come at frequent intervals.

Le Cercle Francais

ANNA SOUTHERLAND President
 MARY LEE TAYLOR Vice-President
 RUTH BROWN Secretary and Treasurer

Le Cercle Francais is a departmental club whose membership includes all college students who are majoring in French, under-classmen who are admitted on the scholarship basis, teachers in the modern language department, and faculty members interested in French.

The purpose of the club is two-fold: (1) To develop a greater fluency in speaking French by means of programs in which the members take part, and (2) to promote a fuller knowledge of the customs and characteristics of the French people, and a greater familiarity with the literature of the country.

There are regular meetings on the second Thursday of each month, at which varied programs are presented. These meetings are conducted entirely in French, and the programs consist of short plays, talks, poems, French songs, and selections from famous books. Some programs are devoted to the study of the most representative French authors, for example: Victor Hugo, Moliere, and others. In response to the roll call the members quote passages from the writer under discussion, or give the name of a well-known work. Sometimes French proverbs are quoted. Dramatization of well-known plays gives variety and interest to the program. On some occasions outside speakers address the club on subjects of general interest.

After the regular program a social hour is sometimes held when French games are played and conversation in conducted in French.

Le Cercle Francais is comparatively a new organization at Salem. Much effort is being expended to improve the standards of the club so that it may be of more value to the intellectual life of the college.

Mathematics Club

The Mathematics Club was organized in November, 1925, by a group of students interested in the cultural and vocational aspects of mathematics. Every effort will be made to make this a permanent organization, to increase those standards of the club which will produce an all-round development in the social and intellectual life of Salem.

The monthly meetings include interesting outside speakers as well as practical demonstrations of applied mathematics.

CHAPTER IV
ATHLETICS

Athletic Association

MARY ALIA ROBBINS	President
ELSIE BARNES	Vice-President
MARY BUCKNER	Secretary
SARA TURLINGTON	Treasurer

The Athletic Association of Salem College has for its purpose the development and supervision of athletics. Every girl who takes part in at least one sport is considered a member of the Association. This organization and its work is equally as important as any other of the Salem organization. It develops the girls physically. There is some form of athletics for every type of girl given at Salem.

The physical director and her assistant have charge of all forms of athletics; the mechanical part is transacted by a staff of officers. Each sport has a girl to take it in charge. She keeps a record of the practices and puts pep into her sport.

The Association has a very complicated system of points. For the different sports, various points are received. These points are awarded to the varsity and class teams. A white college sweater with a yellow "S" is awarded to the girls who have made seven points for three years. The Association holds up a high standard, both in scholastic standing and in sportsmanship. No girl may enter any sport for credit who receives more than two "D's."

The spirit in athletics at Salem has always been a source of great pride. Good sportsmanship, playing the game for the game's sake, being good losers as well as good winners—these few things are the outstanding thoughts as each girl enters the sport.

*In the midst of rolling woodland,
 'Neath fair skies of blue,

 Glorious to view.*

CHORUS

*Lift the chorus, speed it onward
 Over vale and hill;
 Hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
 Hail! All hail to thee!*

*Let the chorus swell the anthem
 Far and loud and long;
 Salem College and her glory
 Ever be our song.*

*Though from her our paths may sever,
 And we distant roam,
 Still abides the memory ever
 Of our college home.*

*Salem, Salem,
 Yes, we are from Salem,
 But we're not from Yale-m. No, ma'am
 Chapel, classes,
 Running around in masses,
 And we love our college, Yea!
 Slickers are the things we always wear,
 And we could make use of many long vacations,
 Soccer, hockey, tennis and volley,
 Gee! We're always jolly—
 For we're Salemites! Rah! Rah! Rah!*

Basketball

Basketball is the leading sport at Salem. This is evident by the number of girls who go out for it. This year of 1925-26 promises to be one of the best seasons yet. Although it is early in the season, an unusual amount of interest has already been shown, and more girls than usual have reported for practice. It is expected that the enthusiasm over the game will reach an even higher pitch as the season advances towards the memorable Thanksgiving Day.

It takes a girl who has the real Salem spirit to make a basketball player, because it involves a great deal of self-sacrifice and self-control to come to practice regularly and to keep the strict rules of training. Any girl who is able to do this conscientiously is sure to be a credit to Salem College.

Volley Ball

Volley ball is a sister sport to basketball. Both games are played in the fall while it is too cold to play baseball or hockey. Last year there were only two teams, the Freshmen against the Upper-classmen, but the games were very exciting. First the Upper-classmen won. They were sure of the victory. The Freshmen won the second game. Then came the real honest-to-goodness excitement and playing. This was a hard-fought game because it decided the championship. After hard fighting on both sides the Freshmen came out victorious.

This year the Freshmen defeated the Upper-classmen in the games in which all the teams showed plenty of pep and interest.

All eyes were turned towards Thanksgiving, when the final games were played, and to that night when Salem celebrated her greatest event with a banquet.

Last year the Seniors won, but this year in a hard-fought battle with the Juniors and then with the Freshmen, the Sophomores were victorious.

Archery

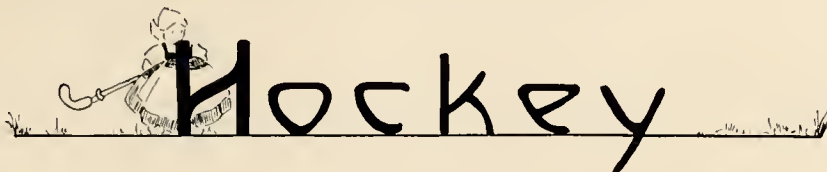

Archery may be called a new sport at Salem. It was begun just last year, but it is by no means the infant of the athletic activities. Archery now has its place among the Field Day events. On this great day representatives from each class try to place as many arrows as possible in the bull's eye. Last year the Freshmen were the winners, but this year as Sophomores they will have a hard fight to keep the prestige won with much difficulty. The competition is always keen on the part of the Freshmen as well as on the part of all other classes.

Track

Until four years ago track was in the background at Salem. Since then it has been steadily advancing until now it is on the front row, so to speak. This year we mean to have it very much in the foreground. Where else would one expect to find a sport with such ardent participation?

Last year Lib Ramsaur jumped four feet and two inches. Ruth Summey hurled a basketball sixty-seven feet and a baseball one hundred and twenty-four feet. Gladys English was our Phidippides and the Freshman class won the relay race. This year with so many new girls and so much pep and enthusiasm, Salem bids fair to have a track team of renown.

Hockey

With the final games on Thanksgiving Day, the basketball season at Salem closes. This, however, does not mean a vacancy in the athletic calendar, for hockey immediately and efficiently fills this place. For six years this sport has proved a success, and as seven is the perfect number, surely 1925-26 will be a perfect and enthusiastic year on the hockey field. As this game requires a large number of players, it is often necessary to combine two classes into one team. This, however, only aids to further rather than retard good sportsmanship and co-operation.

Hockey practices are held three afternoons of the week. During the fall and winter months the winds are sharp and any hockey player will admit that under the circumstances it is hard to refrain from alert and energetic play. Evidence of this is shown at every practice where each team does its best to develop proficient teamwork and accurate play among its members.

The hockey season is closed by a banquet given after the final games. At this occasion the loving cup which was presented to the Athletic Association by the faculty in nineteen hundred and twenty-four, is presented to the winning team, emblems and numerals are awarded; and the hockey season ends in an appropriate and happy manner.

HOCKEY SQUAD

TENNIS

There was a time in Salem's history when rolling hoops and playing croquet were considered the most exciting pastimes, but those days have gone forever. A far more thrilling and invigorating game has taken their places, and this game is tennis. This year a large number of girls have entered the class tournaments, and the winners of these will compete for the college championship. Two tournaments, a fall and spring one, will be played. Toward the end excitement runs high, for, of course, everyone wishes to win and to have her name engraved on the tennis cup.

TENNIS SQUAD

Swimming

Although the pool is in the open, swimming is considered by many of the Salem girls to be an indoor sport as well as an outdoor one. During swimming hours, girls may be seen draped in and out of the windows in order to get a better view of the swimmers below.

This year is going to be the greatest ever for those interested in swimming. For the first time, a swimming meet was held. There were races using the breaststroke, backstroke and sidestroke. Then, too, there was the plunge for those who are short of statue but long of wind. Last, but not least, there was plain and fancy diving. Who knows but that some of these amateurs may become national champions.

Whether for pleasure or for duty, let us take part in this sport and we never can tell but that all of us may some day become second Annette Kellermans.

Baseball

Baseball is America's national sport, and one of the most popular and promising at Salem. In the year 1924-25 many Freshmen along with upperclassmen added to the growth and development of baseball by their splendid co-operation. Practices were entered into with pep and enthusiasm, and as a result, a thrilling and most interesting game was played between the Freshmen and upperclassmen in the spring of 1925. The final score was 14 to 18 in favor of the valiant Freshmen. The program for 1925-26 varies from that of the previous year in that there are to be four complete teams instead of only two as was the case last year. Each class will be represented and the race for the coveted first place will no doubt be the keenest contest yet witnessed. With an abundance of material on hand and an unusual amount of interest prospects for baseball in the year 1925-26 are indeed bright.

Hiking

At Salem hiking is the Alpha and Omega in athletics, for it is the first sport to begin and the last to end. It is one of the oldest and most loyally supported sports in the college. And no wonder! There is nothing more thoroughly satisfying than swinging down the open road at the end of which burns a picnic fire where steaming coffee and crisp brown bacon make the mouth water. Frequent picnics are a feature of the walking club, for its ideal is not only to get girls out in the open, but to foster a spirit of fun and good fellowship.

Each year the enthusiastic walkers increase, for what is more exhilarating than hiking through the woods on an Autumn day when the brightly colored leaves are falling? Or what can equal a brisk walk on a winter afternoon when the air is just cold enough to make the hands and faces tingle?

Fifteen hikes is the goal all strive to reach, for it is an honor to be presented with a yellow "S." Moreover, a persistent walker may in the course of three years earn her twenty-one points in athletics and receive a Salem sweater, the coveted reward for her perseverance.

But more cherished even than the hard-earned numerals and sweater are the memories of hikes where the spirit of comradeship warmed each heart and bound a little closer new girls and old.

HIKERS

CHAPTER V
IN DUTCH AND OUT

Young People's Meeting

This expanded chapel hour called Young People's Meeting, comes each Wednesday morning from eleven to twelve; and at these exercises student problems and organizations are discussed. But more than this—there is frequently some one from out of town, who, representing another college or institution, presents a subject of peculiar and particular interest to the college girl.

Mail Time

*At the stroke of the hour of ten
The office is crowded and full.
Each girl is there for her morning mail,
And must needs learn to push and to pull.
Be the boxes all full or quite empty.
There seem to be some who complain.
And then in the afternoon hours
They are after the mail once again.*

Senior Christmas Vespers

In harmony with the other manifestations of Christmas is the vesper service conducted by the Seniors in the library. This service is held on the last Sunday before the holidays begin, and it is certainly most beautiful and impressive. Everyone assembles around the Christmas tree with its putz showing the stable at Bethlehem, and there by candle light the service is led by Dr. Rondthaler. At the close, the Seniors as they sing, give a lighted candle to everyone present as a symbol of the Light of the World which came with the little Jesus.

The Senior Dinner

*This is a stately and stern affair,
But it's full, too, of laughter and fun.
For the last time the Seniors are together
When the studies at Salem are done.
Those who are to be married
Around the table must run.
So the first part brings sadness and sorrow,
But the last part—laughter and fun.*

Die Fate Uf Die Juniors

*Die Juniors haf die wurst uf luck,
 Dey allus haf 10 wurch.
 Dey ring die bell, gif leaflets out;
 Und as ushers; nefer shirk.*

*'ot's more it's efen wurse dan dis
 For all throughout die year
 Dey has 10 wurch like everyt'ing,
 Ofer wot?—well, lissen here:*

*Dey fix a lot of t'ings to eat,
 Und sell all kinds uf stuffs;
 Gif dances, lectle parties, too,
 Sell eclaires, and goot cream puffs.*

*'ot for? Make money, wot you t'ink?
 Und dat's not don widin a wink.*

*You see die stately Seniors
 Must be entertained und fed,
 At a prom or bick ol' banquet,
 Uf such you'fe offen read.*

*Dose Seniors better like dis fting,
 'ot fer it may be,
 For die Juniors, wen 'tis ofer
 'I'll dance und shout mit glee.*

*If efer you to college go,
 Take dis advice from me.
 Be a Sofomore, und a Senior,
 But nefer a Junior be!*

The Junior-Senior Prom

The Junior-Senior entertainment at Salem has generally been in the form of a prom. A great deal of time and thought is spent on preparation for this big event, and great pains are taken in decorating. The upper campus lends itself well to the occasion, and is usually aglow with bright lanterns. Freshmen, sisters of the Juniors, furnish a special program during the supper. This is indeed one of the greatest events of the year, and certainly the one in which the Juniors and Seniors are most interested.

Chapel

A half an hour is set aside each morning for worship. Every student is required to attend, and should she not avail herself of this opportunity she has lost a very important and helpful part of her college day.

Hat Burning

This occasion, typified by a large bon-fire on the upper campus, is symbolic of the discarding of frivolity by the Seniors, and their assumption of dignity. A simple play is given which clearly sets forth the meaning; and after the paper caps and capes have been burned, the president of the college awards each Senior with her own black cap and gown which she wears for the remaining months of her college life.

The Orchestra

Up until this year the instrumental department of the music school has presented two orchestra concerts each year; one given by the advanced students, and one by the Junior Orchestra. Since the Junior Orchestra has been discontinued, only the College Orchestra will present its program in connection with the Commencement Concert.

Class Day

Senior Class Day on the eve of Commencement is always a joy and pleasure to those who witness it. Immediately following the Alumnae Luncheon, these exercises are held on the back campus. Sometimes there are fairies and elves; at other times, kings and queens, lords and ladies, or even small children. Whatever be the means of presentation, however, the motive always carries with it the idea of the literal meaning of the word "Commencement" and all that it signifies. The daintiness, artistic colors and costumes and the originality displayed on this occasion serve to magnify its attractiveness and to make its tone more real and earnest.

Ivy and Tree Planting

Ivy and tree planting each year presents some new phase of ceremony, and yet clings to the usual form. These exercises conducted by the Senior Class usually take place in the fall or winter months. On the day set for the occasion the Seniors, Sophomores and marshals wear the miniature Senior class pennants, bearing the motto and numerals with an ivy leaf pinned to them. After a few songs and a brief talk at ivy planting, each Senior adds a shovel of dirt around the tree, and these two ever-growing and ever spreading plants remain as living memorials to the Senior Class.

The Salemite

This is the college paper which records all events at Salem. At the same time, through its editorial columns, it gives sound advice, and through its fun section, gives entertainment each week to every member of the student body.

Memorial Hall

A hall of music and speaking,
A hall of concert and song,
A hall of practice and teaching,
A busy hall all the day long.

Miss Mary Meinung

Our Mistress Mary is never contrary, although she often pretends to be. But with girls misplacing the library books, and in general upsetting that solemn sanctuary, indeed Miss Mary has just cause for a little complaint. Does she fuss? No. Who could call those whisperings fussing? As a side issue—and yet a very important one—she has charge of ringing the bell for classes.

The Christmas Party

Santa Claus visits Salem each year at the Christmas party given by the girls to the faculty and the Senior class. On the Saturday evening preceding the holidays everybody gathers around the Christmas tree, and characteristic gifts with appropriate verses are given to each member of the faculty while the Seniors receive a large basket of fruit. Everyone makes an entire evening of it, too, since there are songs and toasts in the dining room beforehand.

Victuals

They say that our food is not stylish,
But healthy, substantial and good;
It's the kind that all colleges offer;
At least—the kind that all should.

It furnishes calories and vitamins.
It strengthens the body and mind.
Variety?—No, only seldom
A new thing in store do we find.

But with one thing out of all others,
On Saturday night we are fed;
Whatever may come, or whatever may go
We are sure to have "sugar bread."

The Daisy Chain

The daisy, the college flower, is never more in evidence than on commencement morning. Of these bright wild flowers, a large chain is made, which the Seniors carry on their shoulders as they go to their final graduating exercises. After the processional they drop the chain, and thus sever their college ties.

The Alumnae Record

This publication is sent each month to every subscribing alumna. It is the means for exchange of notes of interest as well as for informing alumnae of the events at Salem.

Bishop at Advent

"Christmas wouldn't be Christmas" at Salem if Bishop Rondthaler did not give his lovely interpretation of the Christmas stories at the Young People's Meeting hours during the Advent Season. For three consecutive Wednesdays the girls enjoy this rare treat, and after these talks the Christmas season has a new significance and a new glow for every Salem girl.

We Ask the Teachers

*Do you think you could love us any better,
If we studied night and day,
If we put on a pair of old spectacles
And looked wiser and wiser this way?*

*Do you think you could love us any better,
If we never left you for a week-end,
If we stayed right by your side,
And never went riding with a friend?*

*Do you think you could love us any better,
If we never went to a show,
If we stayed alone in our corner,
Instead of the very front row?*

*Do you think you could love us any better,
If we used no powder but soaps,
If we always wore long dresses,
And never bought one of Sam's dopes?*

*If you do, then perhaps we'll get better,
We'll grow calmer, more stately and stern;
But remember, we're all human beings,
And must be happy in order to learn.*

Mr. Burrage

Notable among the who's who of Salem comes the name of Mr. Burrage. If you are going to have a "To-Do," he is indeed your right-hand man—ready not only with suggestions, but to carry them out as well. If you want a window box, lose your trunk key, or need a screw; go to Mr. Burrage. If, by chance, you doubt the value of this versatile being, ask anyone who has been a Junior—she realizes his worth!

The Hut

*Old "Gym" has from us departed,
And now "The Hut" is his name.
He furnishes a place for all parties,
Those with, and those without fame.*

*On cold winter nights the large fireplace
Lends comfort as well as good cheer;
There each girl is sure to find welcome
In spring, fall, and all through the year.*

Blue Ridge Delegation

Salem sends from ten to fifteen representatives to the Student Conference at Blue Ridge, North Carolina, each June. As delegates are chosen from the various organizations and classes the effect of the conference is widely felt on the College Campus the following year. Discussion groups, athletics, instructive and interesting lectures give to the girl who goes to Blue Ridge that for which she went and that which makes her time there worth while.

Bishop at Easter

As during the Christmas season, so during the Lenten season, Bishop Rondthaler is the speaker at the Young People's Meeting hours on Wednesday mornings. This season of the year so dear to the heart of every Christian, is made even dearer to the listeners who have the opportunity of hearing the Bishop tell the beautiful events of our Lord's life during his last days on earth, and then, most vividly, the glorious account of His resurrection on that glad Easter morn.

Transfer of Caps and Gowns

On the Saturday preceding commencement, the Junior and Senior Classes conduct exercises, at which time each Senior lends to a Junior her cap and gown for use during the day. Great is the rejoicing of the incoming Seniors as they assume for a short time the symbols of their future dignity; and it is certain that they do not fail to display their borrowed feathers, or in any way fall short of the dignity thus placed upon them.

Senior Christmas Carols

On the evening before the Christmas holidays begin, the Seniors, by rain or by moonlight, go around the campus singing Christmas carols. Each Senior carries a candle, and as their singing is heard through the dormitories and in the houses of friends and neighbors of Salem, the Christmas spirit really glows in that small community.

Evening Watch

A few minutes each evening are set aside by the girls on every hall for prayer and song. Often the strains of "Day Is Dying in the West" direct a girl going through the corridor into the room where Watch is being conducted, and there she finds a happy gathering and a service which proves most helpful and appropriate after a day of classes and study.

Transfer of Colors and Flowers

The out-going Senior Class of the Academy receives from the president of the Senior Class of the College their class colors and flower at the end of the school year. They are presented at the Academy Commencement Exercises, so that their value and significance might be fully appreciated by the in-coming Freshmen who are to uphold their name and honor.

The Hall of Blame

*Eloise Willis, they do say,
Closed contracts by night and by day,
And she filled up this book.
Gosh, the pages she took
For Hines' and for Belk's—but they pay!*

*The alleged jokes were compiled by Miss
Shaw,
They were funny in the days of our paw.
The newest of these
Was that famous old wheeze
About Pat and his mother-in-law.*

*Mr. Higgins with a word here and there,
Helped mightily this volume prepare.
Then laughing with glee,
He said, "But for me,
'T would have been a balloon without air."*

*Evelyn Graham worked hard and with skill,
For ads to help pay the bill.
And said, "When I'm through
With sweet girlish mess,
I'll offer myself to De Mille."*

*The triple alliance in truth,
Are our Eva, Ruth Clark and Ruth.
They draw all things Dutch,
So often—so much,
We reserve in our "Hall" them a booth.*

*Our sympathy we offer to thee,
Dear hurried and worried "I. P."
With your assistant life
With its worries and strife
You are deserving of more than A.B.*

*Ben Matthews, as he snapped his last shot,
Fell heavily o'er on his cot;
Said, "They needn't blame me,
When their pictures they see,
For I used enough plates on the lot."*

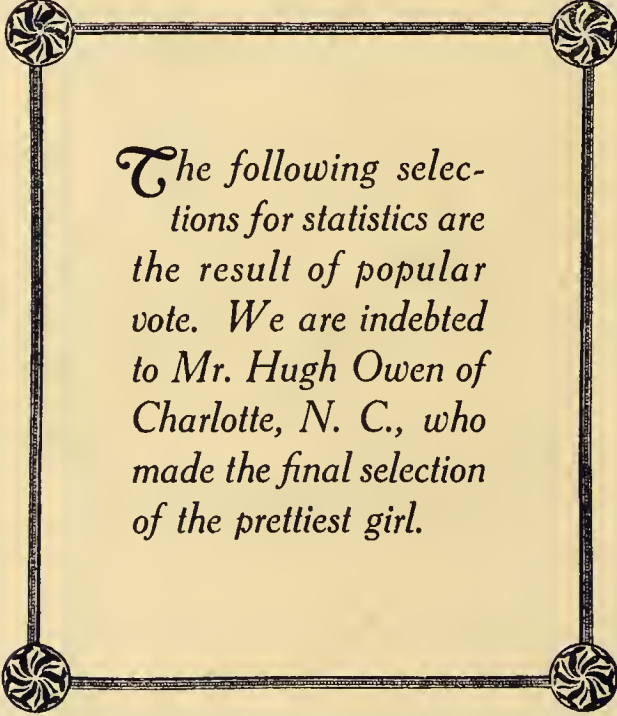

*Bensons, the printers, you know,
Have fussed a lot, I know;
For our dark blue ink
Has made them all blink,
But then—we all like it so.*

*The head of the Hall of Blame
Has gone batty—gone dippy—a shame.
The Dutch motif's the reason
And now every season
She wears wooden shoes till she's lame.*

*Those omitted from this Hall of Blame,
Might be sad. Huh, they're spared from the shame.
But whatever the luck,
We'll all show our pluck,
And hope it's transformed into fame.*

In Class

Tenth Geometry

Miss Weaver—Girls, hand your papers in.

Kathleen Mitchell—Miss Weaver, I haven't done mine, can I do them later?

Miss Weaver—Kathleen, how many times will I have to keep you in for not handing in your work. Miss Taylor tells me that you write letters during Study Hall instead of studying. You will have to stay in this afternoon until you have gotten up all your week's work.

Kathleen—All right, I'll be here at two thirty.

Ninth History

Miss Taylor—Les' get quiet, eve'body.

(While someone is answering a question, there is whispering in the back of the room. All is suddenly quiet then.)

Miss Taylor—I 'es declare, it does look like you would pay attention after missing so much, Mary Virginia. Will you please answer the question I just asked?

Mary Virginia—I can't.

Miss Taylor—Do you know why?

Mary Virginia—Yes'm, I wasn't listening.

Miss Taylor—All right, now begin again.

Eleventh Latin

Mrs. Brown—All right, now girls, stop talking. What page is the lesson on? Cathrine, stop talking! If you speak again I'll send you out of the room. You Eleventh Grade girls are worse than the Eighth Graders.

Cathrine—I was just talking about the lesson.

Mrs. Brown—Yes, you seem to know all about it—suppose you teach it.

Cathrine—Where shall I begin?

Mrs. Brown—Hush, Cathrine, I'm tired of your impertinence.

Tenth English Lit.

The Smart Set—(Lizzie Lyon, Dion Armfield, Anne Cannon, Betty Wall), Oh, Miss Efrid, let me tell you—you know I heard something about that while I was away this Christmas—Aw, be still, Amelia.

Miss Efrid—All right, what did you have to say, Lizzie?—If you all will just be still this period I'll let you out five minutes early. All right, Amelia. How on earth do you all ever expect to get anything out of this English if you talk all the time?

Eleventh French

Mrs. W'enhold—Bonjour Mademoiselles.

Class—Bonjour, Madame.'

Mrs. W'enhold—Elizabeth Deaver, will you please keep still, you whisper incessantly.

Deaver—No'm, I don't; that's the first time I've spoken.

Mrs. W'enhold—The next time anybody speaks in English she will go to Punishment Hour for two hours. Mildred Owens, do you have gum in your mouth? How often will I have to tell you girls that anybody that chews gum in my classes goes to Punishment Hour for three hours. Jettez la (Throw it out).

CHAPTER II
THE CLASSES

WILLIAN MIMS
NEWPORT, TENN.

The fact that Willian is our class president is only one of our tributes to her ability. Were we asked to write a word equation of her it would be:

Personality plus pep, plus brains, equals WILLIE MIMS

Senior Class

Colors: Purple and White

Flower: Parma Violet

Motto: A H E

OFFICERS

- | | |
|------------------------------|-------------------------|
| WILLIAN MIMS | President |
| MARY STOKELY | Vice-President |
| VIRGINIA PFOHL | Secretary and Treasurer |
| CATHERINE MILLER | Poet |
| ELEANOR WILLINGHAM | Historian |
| ATHENA CAMPOURAKIS | Prophet |
| MILDRED SCHNEIDER | Testator |

Senior Class

RACHEL BRUNSON
FLORENCE, S. C.

"Law, chile, this French and this wisdom tooth going to be the death of me yet." We know Rachel doesn't mean her grumbling because she always seems to be having a good time. And Oh! those grades, who doesn't covet them.

ATHENA CAMPOURAKIS
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Athena is quite a credit to her celestial namesake, Pallas Athena. When we had learned to pronounce her name, we found her a remarkably fine and clever girl, whose only apparent fault is a propensity for chewing gum.

ELIZABETH CHRISTIAN
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

A note of affluence is added to the Senior Class by the fact that Elizabeth Christian has a chauffeur at her disposal. In spite of her fashionable clothes and a perfect marcel she joins the hoi poilli with her incessant chatter.

ANNE ELIZABETH COOKE
SALISBURY, N. C.

Anne is our professional consoler and there are few of us whose tears she has not wiped away. Lest you think that her only occupation, we call attention to the cool way she goes home each week-end. But that may be due to the fact that Third Dormitory isn't the same place without her.

SELMA CREWS
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

If you ever lose Selma, look for Adelaide, for you'll find them together.

Senior Class

MARY VIRGINIA DUNN

RALEIGH, N. C.

The artistic fingers of a musician and the ability to jazz anything make her desirable at all times. By no means do we mean to insinuate that this is her only admirable quality, all that know her could mention others.

ADELAIDE HANEY

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Popular with the girls though somewhat the opposite with the teachers—of languages in particular.

JENNIE HEISS

CLIO, S. C.

In vain we have tried to write up Jennie, but she is so modest that she would not consent to all the nice things we attempted to say about her. This dash (——) represents her good qualities; this one (—) her faults.

RUTH HOPKINS

STALEY, N. C.

Covetousness is a bad habit, but how can one help coveting such athletic ability as Ruth shows. Then, too, she has other abilities, which are as well marked. Her friendly "Can I help?" is known to all.

MURIEL LOMBRA

HARTFORD, CONN.

Ability, sociability and amiability, that's Muriel. Who among us hasn't longed for those curls—and, oh! that "up north" pride.

Senior Class

ELIZABETH MARX
EXCELSIOR, MINN.

We are apt to consider Lib perfect, tho we did hear her "sass" Miss Zachary once. Elizabeth is our prize student and president of our Y. W. C. A.

CATHERINE MILLER
RUSSELLVILLE, TENN.

Intellectual, witty, poetic—a queer combination for a girl who isn't queer.

FRANCES MILLIKEN
GREENSBORO, N. C.

Frances is very anxious that all the faculty should know that she learned something before she came to Salem. She is certainly clever and capable.

MILDRED OWENS
PLYMOUTH, N. C.

Well, old chap, it's a bally good day. Mildred is not English, but she takes the part well. This is also brought out by her interest in athletics. When she takes part in anything we are always sure of her co-operation. Here's to a true Salemite, for we all know that she will remain as loyal to others as she has to us.

VIRGINIA PFOHL
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

"Jinks" is the most emphatic and decided person. It would never enter our minds to challenge a statement of hers or try to improve it. She was formerly distinguished by the title, "Dr. Pfohl's daughter," but now the doctor is fast becoming "Virginia's father."

Senior Class

NANNIE RUSSELL

DURHAM, N. C.

"It is better to be small and shine, than to be great and cast a shadow."

MILDRED SCHNEIDER

RICHMOND, VA.

To say that Mildred is her mother's daughter is more than sufficient praise. Mildred herself is one of our exhibits in the scholastic line and has the unusual ability of holding as well as making friends.

VIRGINIA SHAFFNER

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

If you see Virginia, day or night, minus the annual and the President of the Senior Class, you'll know there's something wrong.

MARGARET SMITH

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

We notice that Margaret has a very good "line," that is, a very mathematical line and we all know that she will show the girls at Goucher next year what a Southern girl can do.

ROSALIE STEELE

STATESVILLE, N. C.

Rosa possesses that all too rare quality, tact, which in itself gives her distinction. But that isn't all, for her good disposition is proverbial. Rosa is the ideal friend and those who can claim her as such may well be envied.

Senior Class

CARRIE MAE STOCKTON
 WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

She has always gone to Salem and expects to continue here. "Comment vous portez-vous ce matin, Mademoiselle Carrie May?" Comment vous portez-vous ce soir, Mademoiselle Carrie May? The answer to this question is always the same! No matter what happens she can be counted on.

MARY STOKELY
 NEWPORT, TENN.

Mary should have been a princess in days of old for her hair is long enough and lovely enough to have graced any king's daughter and captivated the heart of many a gallant young knight. In spite of the age in which she must live, she has exercised her charms just the same and they do not lie alone in her hair.

LOUISE WATSON
 NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Louise was with us last year and somehow it seems she has a greater interest in Davidson than last year. Now we understand why Louise is gone on week ends when something is doing at Davidson. We know Louise's popularity will increase next year while she is at Newcomb College in her own home town.

ELEANOR WILLINGHAM
 WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Athletics and studies both well done, combined with a disposition to be envied.

Last Will and Testament

E, the Senior Class of Salem Academy, realizing that the time has come when we will be unwillingly numbered among the deceased, write this, our last will and testament.

Item 1: We, the Senior Class, bequeath to the Class of '27 our dignity and scholarship.

Item 2: I, Willian Mims, as President of the Senior Class, bequeath to Miss Efrid all telegrams received relative to the class rings, in order that she may pass them on to the incoming Senior classes of Salem Academy.

Item 3: I, Mary Virginia Dunn, bequeath my beads to Eleanor Harlee.

Item 4: We, Lois Strickland and Elizabeth Christian, bequeath our Cadillacs to the boarders at South Hall that they may have the joy of "checking."

Item 5: I, Muriel Lombra, bequeath my orange fountain pen to Grace Wilkes in memory of Durham.

Item 6: I, Willian Mims, bequeath my leadership to Dion Armfield that her memory, too, may live in the hearts of her fellow classmen.

Item 7: I, Mary Stokoley, bequeath my East Tennessee brogue to Pauline Schenherr.

Item 8: I, Rosalie Steele, bequeath my untiring efforts to learn to Charleston to Hyacinth Garner.

Item 9: We, Elizabeth Marx, Catherine Miller and Athena Campourakis, bequeath our A's to all those girls who are more accustomed to receiving the other letters of the alphabet.

Item 10: I, Nannie Russell, bequeath my Delta Tau Delta pin to Margaret Hughes.

Item 11: I, Virginia Shaffner, bequeath my athletic ability to Elizabeth Mundy.

Item 12: We, the class of '26, bequeath to Mrs. Herndon the memory of the silence which reigned on third dormitory after "lights."

Item 13: We, the Seniors, bequeath to Miss Weaver our chewing gum on condition that she share it with the rest of the faculty. We assure her that she will find it in good condition as it is always necessary to remove it before the flavor has been exhausted.

Item 14: We, the Seniors of 1926, bequeath to the faculty our very best wishes.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and fixed my seal, this 29th day of May, 1926, A. D.

MILDRED SCHNEIDER, Testator.

Signed, sealed, declared and published by the Senior Class of Salem Academy as their last Will and Testament, in presence of us, who, at their request, and in the presence of each, do hereunto subscribe our names as witnesses.

VIRGINIA SHAFFNER, Editor.

MURIEL LOMBRA, Financial Secretary.

WILLIAN MIMS, President of the Senior Class.

History of the Class of '26

RHAD been writing in my "good times" book and I was now sitting at my desk thinking of those happy memories and day-dreaming a little of what was still to happen, when suddenly, I felt someone pull my hair and I heard a queer little laugh behind me. I turned to see a curious little man with the figure eight on his coat prancing around and inquired who he was. "Indeed, have you forgotten your good times in that first year in Salem Academy?" he asked, and at that my thoughts flew to that first happy year at Salem. Immediately I hastened to write of those joyful days and to tell of our first class elections when three other tiny men appeared, each bearing a number, one-nine, one-ten, one-eleven. In shrill little voices they cried out together: "Don't forget us!" and before I could answer all four sat down in a row and looked up at me with expectant faces. "Well," thought I, "Now I am in a quandary," but they easily solved my problem by telling me exactly what to write. Therefore if this which the class has asked me to read to you, sounds a bit curious and not exactly like a history you will understand. I am sure that it is not my fault, but that of those funny little men.

We chose Miss Stuart as our class teacher for that year, but as she did not return the next fall, we elected Miss Efirid. She was such a fine leader and we were all so fond of her that at the end of our Sophomore year we determined to have her again, if possible. When we returned as Juniors we were greatly relieved to know that she too was returning and that we might again call her "ours." All through our Junior year we came to realize more and more what she meant to us and so, as Seniors, we chose her again. Now as we are about to leave her we want her to know that we shall always consider her the most necessary member of the class of '26.

Having a great deal of pep and wishing to make "the purple and white float forever," we sent out each year a team for every sport. In these sports, volley ball, soccer, basketball and baseball, we are proud to say that a few members of each team made varsity every year. Sometimes we lost, sometimes we won, but always we did our best, winners or losers, and came back with a smile. Besides having the teams there was always an enthusiastic crowd of spectators who represented the class and we usually selected a cheer leader to lead them in songs and yells for our side. I am sure the teams will never forget the wonderful banquets which followed the final games in these sports, and none of us will fail to remember how thrilled we were to be allowed sometimes to sit at the winning-team table.

It is hard to collect money from girls at boarding school, but the girls of our class have always been willing to co-operate with us and so each year we faithfully did our part in raising money for various causes. Each year we had a different way to make this money. As Freshmen, we tirelessly sold candy; as Sophomores, we gave wonderful fried chicken suppers; while as Juniors we had both suppers and dances.

Our class at all times believed in entertaining. As Freshmen we entertained our sister class, to which we looked up with the greatest awe, and I know if they enjoyed the picnic half as much as we did they had a very good time. Later in the spring we had a masquerade party in the "gym," at which we had lots of fun. When we became Sophomores we considered the idea of entertaining ourselves as well as others so we gave each other a picnic at Shaffner's farm. Again we decided to have our sister class as guests and this time we gave them what we considered a wonderful party, followed by a dance in Alice Clewell Building. As Juniors we realized that this was the year for a real entertainment because we were to give the Junior-Senior Banquet. We worked terribly hard getting ready for this, only stopping long enough to have our picnic similar to the one of the year before—this was to encourage us in our work. In the spring our sister class, the Freshmen, gave us a beautiful Japanese party, which we appreciated greatly. At last it was time for our banquet and after the completion of our many preparations, we invited the Seniors to be our guests at the Country Club. Here we had the banquet which for three years we had been looking forward to with so much interest.

During our first three years we waited patiently to be Seniors, having heard that they were privileged beings and because of this we looked forward to this year as one in which we would have no work and all play. Needless to say, we have been sadly disappointed in this respect, for we certainly have worked, but yet, who can deny that the numerous parties and entertainments which have been given for us have not afforded us the best times we have ever known. Now, having spent four long happy years together, we come to the close of our last—when we must part and I—

At this point I heard a noise and looking up I saw the little man number nine quietly snoring, while eight, ten and eleven were already sound asleep. "My," I said, "if this is enough to put them to sleep I certainly must stop." E. R. W., '26.

Prophecy

COLD winter evening, an open fire, a dozen rosy apples, a six-tube radio set, a good friend who did not continually scold me for being a radio fan—what could be more enjoyable?

"Station KDKA, Pittsburgh. The first thing on our program tonight is a piano solo by that noted pianist, Elizabeth Marx." The piece was played with marvelous technique, but because I am not a lover of classical music, I turned the dials away from it.

"Station WEEF, New York," next met our ears. "Reverend William Mims, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical Church in this city will talk on 'The Modern Girl' versus 'The Girl of 1926.'" I happen to be looking in the Radio Journal at the beginning of this speech and did not listen until a familiar name caught my ear. Reverend Mims was saying: "Adelaide Haney, one of my former schoolmates, has written a book in Latin, dedicated to Marguerite Davis Brown, which the critics say is far superior to any of Virgil's or Horace's works. Now this is an example."—squeck baum—and the station faded.

I turned the dials to WEEI, Boston, and landed in the middle of a speech by Eleanor Willingham on "How to Dance the Winston-Salem," a dance which she invented and which is similar to the Charleston of ten years ago. She was saying: "When I was in London I saw Jennie Heiss, that talented dancer, executing the difficult steps of this dance with admirable skill and—

"Oh, this is boring. Get something else," said my friend. I turned the dials once more.

"Station WOO, Philadelphia. You have listened to Mary Stokely, the famous elocutionist, recite the poem, 'If I Were Queen,' by the poet, Margaret Smith, and before the next number, which will be a solo entitled, 'School Days,' by Frances Milliken, from the Musical Comedy, 'Salem,' written and produced by Doris Thomason. I wish to announce that Mary Virginia Duno has succeeded in swimming the English Channel."

Not being particularly interested, I turned to WGN, Chicago, in time to hear Virginia Pfohl, who has recently returned from her hike around the world, tell of some of her experiences: "When I was last in the interior of Africa, Frances Coleman, the best beloved missionary on the Dark Continent, was rescued from the jungle. From Africa I went to China, where I met Carrie May Stockton, the United States ambassador, who has adopted nine little Chinese orphans. The people in China"—Brimm.

"There is too much static," said my friend, "Get something else and by the way, before you begin, have you heard that Catherine Miller has been appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court? I'll wager she'll send a lot of criminals to prison, and Nannie has been elected District Attorney for Guilford County."

"How interesting," I said, "Do he still. I have something."

"Station WWJ, Detroit. Selma Crews, the famous harpist, will now play, 'The Death of the Flowers.'" After an entrancingly lovely ten minutes, a man began to talk. I turned to Station WLW, Cincinnati, and heard: "Mildred Schneider, the noted discoverer, will tell of some of her experiences."

After ten minutes filled with dinosaurs, ancient Egyptian kings, etc., I caught a familiar name. She was saying: "I went over on the ship of which Virginia Shaffner is captain and met on board a former schoolmate of mine, Elizabeth Christian, wife of the governor of Wyoming, with her six children. She told me an amusing yet interesting anecdote which helps to prove"—Becoming bored, I turned back to KDKA, Pittsburgh, in time to hear the Hopkins-Lombra orchestra play the "Thirteenth Hungarian Rhapsody," composed by Anne Cooke, whom many hail as the second Liszt. However, Hungarian Rhapsodies do not interest me and I turned to Station WGY, Schenectady, in time to hear Louise Watson, who wrote the "New Book of Etiquette," give a lecture on it.

"Dear unseen audience, I am going to begin my talk with an amusing story which helps to prove how necessary good manners are. The other day Rosalie Steele, sheriff of Forsyth County, met Mildred Owens, who owns the largest Coca Cola plant in the country and said to her"—OOOOooooOOORRRK bam.

"The radio is a wonderful invention," said my friend, "but let's stop for a while and take turns reading aloud this article in the Literary Digest on 'How It Feels to Be a Modern Old Maid.'" It should be good; it was written by Rachel Brunson. And for once I assented.

A. C., '26.

Class Poem

*I do not pray for you a carefree life,
They can not win who have not met in strife.
For lives untouched by toil I do not pray,
Untouched by labors that can bless each day.
The inspiration of a task well done
And splendid days of toil in rain and sun.
Forever lies beyond the commonplace
Its wide majestic dignity and grace.*

*May it be yours, a precious gift, I pray,
To see the beauty in the every day.
The rich brocade of autumns that are gone,
The wide flung banners of exalted dawn;
The silhouette of woods against a sky
Where ghosts of shadows hover like a sigh.
Winds, hilltops, passionate seas and stars and sun,
The benison of night when day is done.*

*So would I at this parting hour be true
To all the dreams that I repose in you,
To store up what were sweetest to recall,
Forget the failures that have touched us all.
We shall go forth together, yet apart,
Though space divide we shall be one at heart.
Then shall we stand without the ghost, regret,
When the high seal of character is set.*

LIMERICKS

Mrs. Wenhold

She'll get her degree we all know,
And a Ph.D.'s something to show,
The Hall of Fame, we exclaim,
Will be proud of her name,
And she'll sit on the very front row.

Miss Weaver

Have you heard of a lady named Weaver
Who's a gay and a charming deceiver?
She says, x equals y ,
And the square root is π .
And it's all we can do to believe her.

Mrs. Brown

We had a cruel teacher named Davis,
Wouldn't leave off a lesson to save us.
And now she's a Brown,
And she says with a frown,
The lesson's too short which she gave us.

Miss Pfohl

There's a lady renowned for her piety.
We wish she would yell for variety.
She spouts drama and verse,
And things even worse,
And yet she is charming society.

Miss Taylor

She is one of our faculty belles,
And yet as a teacher excels.
She has dates all the while,
Not the History book style,
Nor the kind of our friend, H. G. Wells.

Miss Efrd

Miss Efrd has traveled in Rome,
P'raps even Hawaii and Nome.
She brings back veils and tales,
From New Zealand and Wales.
And we certainly are glad she is home.

Mrs. Herndon

Mrs. Herndon is fair and she's square.
Should anything happen, she's there.
She's a mother to all,
Whether large or small,
For anyone to dislike her is rare.

Miss Zachary

Miss Zachary, of course, we admire,
And of her company never do tire.
She's very athletic,
And most sympathetic.
We all to her friendship aspire.

Mr. Heath

Mr. Heath from his sanctum sanctorum
In a voice of the utmost decorum,
Says your grades are all D's,
But a few F's and C's,
And politely shows us the doorum.

Miss Duncan

Miss Duncan can warble and trill,
Like the birds on Olympus' hill,
Or strike fear to each soul,
On the sight-singing roll,
Who chirps when supposed to keep still.

Miss Murray

Miss Murray in dress is collegiate.
She can sure make you feel like a midget.
She sometimes gets mad,
When someone is bad,
And cuts up or giggles or fidgets.

THE YEAR 1885

1. From breakfast to 8 A.M. the pupils are to remain in their rooms and devote time to study and to preparation for recitation hours.

2. During school or study hours, everything tending to disturb or distract attention, such as whispering or unnecessary talking of any kind, is strictly forbidden.

3. The scholars are particularly enjoined to take good care of their books, slates, etc., and never to leave them lying about the rooms or passages.

4. When the bell rings for dinner or supper, the pupils are to assemble in their respective rooms, and thence proceed silently and in order to the Dining Hall.

At the table, all loud and unnecessary talking is positively forbidden, and no waste of victuals dare be attempted.

When leaving the table, the same silence and order are to be observed.

5. When a pupil receives provisions of any kind, they must be deposited in the so-called "Box Room." A key to the "Box Room" will be kept in each room, which, at the proper time, can be obtained from the teacher.

6. During recess and recreation hours, all boisterous plays and games, rudeness and unladylike conduct, must be avoided.

7. In the afternoon, immediately after school hours, the pupils will go to their rooms and prepare for going out to walk, and they are not to disperse about the premises or wait until they are sent for. This rule applies to that season when walks are taken after 4 o'clock P.M.

When walking out, the pupils are never to stray out of sight or hearing of the teacher.

8. At bed time, the pupils will devoutly attend evening prayers, and then retire to bed in perfect silence and order.

No talking, whispering or disturbance of any kind whatsoever can be tolerated in the sleeping apartments.

9. Scratching or writing with pencils or cutting with knives, etc., is most strictly forbidden, and a pupil detected in any such vulgar and unladylike act will make herself liable to severe punishment.

10. Carefulness with fire and candles is earnestly recommended. To carry about fire-brands or live coals, except in properly secured vessels, is entirely forbidden.

11. Standing in crowds at the front doors or leaning out of the windows in an unbecoming manner and especially rude or loud talking at such localities are entirely prohibited.

12. The day scholars are to consider themselves subject to the foregoing rules in as far as they may be applicable to them.

Day scholars shall not come to school before 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ o'clock, A.M., and then they must repair immediately to their appointed rooms.

Loitering about the passages or class rooms, either before or after school hours, is positively forbidden.

13. Punctual attention to the above rules and regulations, and in general, implicit obedience to the teachers in all respects, will be required.

ATHLETICS

Athletic Association

OFFICERS

ELIZABETH DEEVER President
 ELVIRA HUDSON Vice-President
 LOUISE WATSON Secretary and Treasurer

The girls have shown lots of pep this year in all sports. From the day school opened we have been assured of their co-operation. In order to reward the girls for their good sportsmanship we have what we term a point system:

Ten points first year felt S. A.
 Ten points second year felt S. A. on background
 Ten points third year nothing
 Ten points fourth year small silver loving cup

They did not disappoint us. The first teams to be selected were those for Hit-pin baseball. The Soccer teams were composed of girls so determined to win victory for their class that when the varsity team was selected we had a group of which we were proud.

Basketball and other spring sports completed the year and made it the best in the history of athletics in Salem Academy.

Hit-Pin Baseball

The sport itself is a combination of baseball and nine pins, and therefore needs a double amount of energy. The girls came out unusually well, bringing with them this very necessary vim. Before hit-pin was begun everybody seemed to think that the first sport of the season wouldn't be any fun, but next year we are sure all the girls will want to come out and have the time of their lives.

Soccer

At Salem soccer is next to basketball in popularity, and is thought by some to be even more fun. It certainly has a kick in it as any one of the players can show you by the bruises of which she was conscious for many weeks.

The games this year were played very enthusiastically. A fine spirit was shown by those who "rooted" on the sidelines. The varsity received as emblems of their good playing small gold S's which as our coach said, stand for "Sacrificing Sportsmen who Played Soccer with Salem Spirit"—the sacrificing is explained by the fact that all of the varsity team kept strict training for two weeks before the games. The other words are self-explanatory, and it is hardly necessary to say that we regret that all of us couldn't make varsity.

Basketball

If basketball is the bee that is in your bonnet let it stay there. Let it sting you into more enthusiasm for the game, whether you play or whether you stand on the sidelines and yell. Basketball at Salem is the sport of the year, the one in which the majority of the students take an interest and which gets the most hearty support and co-operation.

We hope to have a successful season this year, for the coaches have more material to work with than ever before at Salem, and some of it is very promising. Also we have two very interested and ardent workers in our coaches, Miss Weaver and Miss Zachary.

We expect hard work from those who go out for basketball this season, as well as strict regard for the principles of sportsmanship, and courtesy for our coaches, whom we all love.

Tennis Squad

"Curiosity killed the cat; satisfaction brought it back." There was great curiosity in the Academy on the day that the final tennis game was to be played. Interest had been increasing as the contestants decreased. But, of course, it rained on that very day and the game had to be postponed. When at last the results were announced the whole dining room broke into applause and heartily congratulated the winner. This shows how enthusiastic the contestants and non-contestants were in connection with this "all-season" sport.

OFFICERS

ELIZABETH MARK President
 MILDRED SCHNEIDER Treasurer

In the Sunday evening Y. W. service a real effort is made to present to the girls something which they may not only remember here, but also take away with them in memory of our half-hour together. Special speakers are invited and music is made an important part of every meeting.

As a week-day activity, "the Y. W. store" is kept, the proceeds of which are used for a purpose of benefit to the Academy.

The aim of our organization is to strengthen the spiritual life and to help the girls of South Hall live a life of service.

Book Club

OFFICERS

MISS ELIZABETH PFOHL	Leader
ELIZABETH MARX	President
CATHERINE MILLER	Secretary
VIRGINIA PFOHL	Treasurer

The Book Club is founded on the well-known principle that: "Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man," and while we do not expect to produce paragons of the aforementioned virtues, we do expect to turn out some remarkable specimens. We also hold with Emerson that, "Tis the good reader that makes the good book," and at the risk of being thought a little too self-satisfied we beg to state that all of our books have proved excellent. A scholarship standard of B assures our being exclusive, and a leader like Miss Pfohl assures our accomplishing something.

STATISTICS

Statistics

Is there any word in the vocabulary of school life more fraught with excitement and suspense than this word "statistics"? For days the dormitory and hall will shelter many whispering groups; then the fateful hour of voting comes. The walls of old South Hall re-echo with vigorous applause as one by one those girls are chosen, who best represent the qualities which time honored custom dictates for a well-rounded life in Salem Academy or any other school.

The Dutch caps which these favored girls donned serve to remind us that each one has the essential qualities of integrity and dependableness, which are characteristic of the people in addition to that quality signified by the title which she bears.

Statistics were particularly hard to choose this year, because there are so many "fine" and talented girls in our midst. The honor thus bestowed becomes greater and its responsibilities heavier.

REFINEMENTS IN LIVING

The difference between the really modern home and the home of a generation or more ago, is to be found in those refinements which make home-keeping easier, house work pleasanter, and the home brighter and more attractive. The biggest difference between the really modern home and the home of other days is found in electric service.

Electricity, applied through the numerous appliances that have been perfected during recent years, not only banishes drudgery from house work, but it brightens the home, conserves the strength of the housewife, keeps her fresh, gives her more time for recreation and reading and adds pleasant years to her life.

Electrical appliances are likewise bringing refinements in the art of living. Electric curling irons, smoothing irons and heating pads are indispensables. Tea kettles, toasters, grills, electric fans, hair dryers, vibrators and other appliances are desirable and add much to the comfort and pleasure of those who have them.

Electricity is the modern Aladdin at the service of everyone. The only difference is you push a button instead of rub a lamp.

For What Kind of Pictures Do You Vote
and if You Don't Vote At All
What Do You Expect?

It is the millions who choose their entertainment, and if necessary their theater, and don't let it choose them, who count for progress.

Paramount Pictures deal in emotions strong and simple, as simple as human nature and just as vivid.

A part of the reason for Paramount's leadership in the movies is the selecting of plots and stories from great books and plays.

From the greatest book of all, the Holy Bible, has been made The Ten Commandments. The Covered Wagon, Peter Pan, The Light That Failed, North of 36, Thundering Herd, A Kiss for Cinderella, The Vanishing American, and many more were great stories before they were Paramount Pictures.

ROARING GAP

*A New Summer Sport
Paradise on the Blue Ridge Altitude 3700 Feet*

There is only one golf club in the east that is higher than the Roaring Gap course. There is no other from which the golfer can see a vast landscape spread out to the horizon 2,500 feet below. Twelve hundred acres of plateau, thrust forth like an outpost from the Blue Ridge Rampart, furnish here the setting for a unique hotel, a cottage colony and a complete program of summer sports—at the point where the Blue Ridge makes its nearest approach to the larger cities of North Carolina.
